PROGRESSIVES GO WILD AT MENTION OF TEDDY

For an Hour and Thirty-three Minutes Delegates and Spectators Cheer, Sing and Parade, and Break all Records in Demonstration of Loyalty to Party's Hero.

RAIN DOES NOT BEGIN TO DAMPEN ARDOR

Leaders Powerless to Stop Multitude Which Shouts Itself Hoarse Every Time Chairman Robins Alludes to Roosevelt—Temporary Committees Named—First Day Ends Without Offhand Nomination of Colonel.

Chicago, June 7.—The progressive national convention opened in the Auditorium today with a record breaking demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt. For one hour and thirty-three minutes the delegates and spectators roared, shouted, cheered and applauded. They sang the progressive battle hymns, paraded the aisles and over the stage, and howled down all attempts to check them.

The demonstration exceeded the previous record for such affairs of one hour and twenty-nine minutes, established in the democratic convention in Denver in 1908 in behalf of William J. Bryan, which had exceeded by four minutes the record made that same year in the republican convention in Chicago when Colonel Roosevelt's supporters sought his nomination over William H. Taft.

Raymond Robins, temporary chairman of the convention, had spoken just three sentences of his keynote speech when he mentioned Colonel Roosevelt's name. A wave of enthusiasm that amounted to nothing less than a paroxysm resulted.

"The foremost citizen of the world" was the characterization Robins used in connection with his mention of the colonel's name. The response was instantaneous. "We want Teddy," roared the delegates, and the demonstration was on. With umbrellas raised they began marching about the hall. They flowed upon the stage and swung Victor Mordock's hand until the stalwart Kansan's collar was white. Hamilton Fish, Jr. and another man seized a delegate bearing an American flag and carried him around the hall on their shoulders. Banners were torn from their places and stanchions were lifted from the floor as the shouting host tramped around.

SING "ONWARD, CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS."
Chairman Robins made several attempts to quell the demonstration, but after a few raps of the gavel gave it up. The band chimed in with the progressive battle hymns and soon the surging crowd was tramping the aisles to the strains of "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Despite the handicap of the steps leading into the balcony the demonstration spread there and soon the spectators in the galleries joined in. Banners were snatched from their hangings and waved bearing these inscriptions:

"Teddy and safety first."
"If Teddy was present where would Villa be?"
"The people want T. R., a regular American."
"Why take chances? We know what Roosevelt can do."
"We want Teddy," and other progressive slogans.

Then the band switched to "March-

Suffrage and Labor Planks Asked From Republicans

Coliseum, Chicago, June 7.—The committee on resolutions of the republican national convention had its first hearing at the Coliseum late today on matters which various interests desire to have dealt with in the party's platform.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, presided. Three delegations of women were heard on the equal suffrage question and a committee representing union labor urged planks it desired placed in the platform. The women's delegation represented the National American Woman's Suffrage association, the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage and the Woman's Anti-Suffrage association.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman's association, presented a memorial at a meeting of suffragists here today. This memorial requested the committee to insert in the republican platform the following proposed plank: "The republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, the people, for the people, favors the extension of the suffrage to women as a measure of justice to one-half the adult people of this country."

Mrs. Abbie E. Krebs, a delegate-at-large from California to the republican convention, told the committee that the republican party would never regret its action if it put a woman's suffrage plank in the platform. Several other women joined in the discussion.

The National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage then was given a hearing. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, president, introducing the speakers.

Mrs. Dodge said the organization she represented had members in twenty-four states. Mrs. Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York state association, opposed a woman suffrage plank in the republican platform at this time, she said, because it was a controversial question and the times were too serious for political parties to take up such matters.

FORT VAUX FALLS INTO GERMAN HANDS

Fort Vaux lying some five miles northeast of Verdun, which for weeks past the French had been stubbornly defending against terrific onslaughts of the Germans, has at last fallen into the hands of the Teutons, according to Berlin. The men who defended the fortress to the last surrendered to the Germans, who also captured a large number of machine guns and mine throwers.

Paris, however, says the fort was still in French hands early Wednesday morning but that since then it had been impossible to communicate with the fort owing to the violence of the bombardment.

Gains of considerable proportions by the Russians over the Austrians, which the latter over the Italians and by the Germans over the British are recorded in the latest official communications from Petrograd, Constantinople and London. In the region of Verdun violent artillery combats are in progress, while on the Austro-Italian line the Italians continue to hold the Austrians from further advances.

RUSSIANS ARE MAKING ADVANCES.

In the fighting that is going on from the Pripiet marshes to the Rumanian frontier the Russians in their big offensive movement have dislodged the Teutonic allies from fortified positions and brought their aggregate of men captured up to about forty-one thousand. They have also taken seventy-four machine guns, guns, and forty-nine bomb throwers. Among the prisoners are nine hundred officers.

As an offset to the Russian gains over the Teutonic allies, however, Constantinople asserts that in Asia Minor, in the Kope mountain district, the Russians have been driven eight kilometers eastward from positions extending over fourteen kilometers, suffering losses of more than 1,500 men killed or wounded. The fight in this immediate vicinity covers a front of over thirty-one miles with the Turks the aggressors and with the situation favorable to them, according to Constantinople.

In addition, in Mesopotamia the Turks claim to have defeated and dispersed Russian wings which were endeavoring to carry out an enveloping movement against them near Khanikid northwest of Bagdad, but Petrograd asserts that the Russians have captured additional Turkish positions and put to the saber several battalions of Turks.

DESPERATE FIGHT GOING ON AT YPRES.

The Germans and the British are still fighting desperately in the vicinity of Ypres. In an infantry attack against the ruined village of Hooge, east of Ypres, the Germans captured the British front line trenches running through the village but all their attacks elsewhere failed.

Around Verdun, in the region of Hill 304 and on the right bank of the Meuse from Dambloup to Douaumont the bombardments continue intense. The Austrians again have essayed violent attacks against the Italians in the upper Arsa valley and northeast of Asiago but everywhere were repulsed. In the latter sector the Italians drove back the Austrians in a hand-to-hand conflict to the bottom of the Campomello valley.

S. O. S. Call Sent to Teddy

Chicago, June 7.—Former Senator Jackson of Maryland, republican national committeeman from that state, tonight sent a telegram to Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay urging him to come to Chicago in the interest of harmony and announcing he would do his utmost in case of an acceptance to have Mr. Roosevelt given the privilege of the convention floor.

Message Not Received.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 7.—Colonel Roosevelt said late tonight he had received no message from former Senator Jackson. He declined to discuss the question of his going to Chicago.

RAIN PREVENTS COMMENCEMENT PROCESSIONAL, BUT CARROLL CHAPEL IS CROWDED WITH STUDENTS AND FRIENDS OF CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE ANNOUNCED

Dr. Charles Bray Williams of Ft. Worth Delivers Address, Taking as Subject "Culture's Uncanceled Account"—Dr. Brooks Addresses Senior Class and Confers Degrees.

The rain was a factor in preventing the commencement procession from being carried out yesterday morning on Baylor campus, but the friends of the students and the candidates for degrees gathered in large numbers in Carroll chapel at 10 o'clock to witness and take part in the seventy-first annual commencement of Baylor university.

The exercises were opened with the invocation, led by Dr. H. C. Munger, pastor of the Morrow Street Methodist church. After this John de Heck sang two songs from Schubert, which was followed by the commencement address by Charles Bray Williams, Ph. D., D. D., of Fort Worth.

Dr. Williams' subject was "Culture's Uncanceled Account." His definition of culture was "The product of all processes of personal application which improve the intellect and make man more useful to humanity." Personal enjoyment must not be the chief aim of culture, neither personal development, he said.

Culture was first used in connection with tilling the soil, and then plants, and then in the betterment of the animal kingdom. Today it is applied to the development of mankind. Service was first used with application to servants, and help of any kind. Jesus gave the word a new meaning when He said, "Who shall be first among men shall be servant of all."

His admonition to the class of '16 was that they obey the injunctions of this message and when they go forth into the world, they serve humanity with the light and learning we enjoy. He said, "It is our duty to pay the debt of knowledge to their unfortunate brothers who have not had the opportunities of learning that come to the college men. He referred to Burbank as developing plants to a higher state of cultivation, and then asked the question, "Why cannot educated men improve the human race?"

"It is most true that the race has been propagated by a class that is

HUGHES IS CALMEST OF THE CANDIDATES

Justice Charles E. Hughes (photographed last week in Washington).

Justice Charles E. Hughes is the calmest and most untroubled of all the Republican candidates for the presidential nomination. To see him on his quiet morning walk in the national capital one would hardly suspect that the supreme moment in his life's history was at hand.

REPUBLICANS QUIET AT CONVENTION AND LACK ENTHUSIASM

Chicago, June 7.—The republican national convention assembled in the Coliseum today, heard a keynote speech delivered by Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, perfected an organization and adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. It took just two hours and its lack of demonstration or outbursts of any kind and its strict attention to the business in hand was reminiscent of the Philadelphia convention of 1800 that nominated McKinley and Roosevelt.

For one hour and twenty minutes, Senator Harding, the temporary chairman, delivered a carefully prepared speech, punctuated in the telling points with brief periods of hand waving and applause, but at no time did a demonstration occupy more than a half minute.

The convention was twenty-five minutes behind the hour arranged for its assembly, but when Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the republican national committee brought down his gavel at 11:25 o'clock it moved quickly and with precision until adjournment at 12.

DELEGATES STAND AROUND AND TALK.

The hour for assembling was set for 11 o'clock, but there was no semblance of order at that time and no one made any pretense of seeing it. The delegates stood about the floor and talked, the spectators overflowed into the spaces reserved for the delegates and hundreds of seats on the floor and in the galleries were empty. Finally Chairman Hilles gave signs of calling the convention to order and the uniformed police began moving about, urging the delegates into their places.

Finally at 11:28 o'clock Chairman Hilles brought down the gavel with what the convention should do with itself.

Hughes Boom Has Grown to Such Proportions That Leaders Believe Republicans Will Name Associate Justice, While All Admit Bull Moose Will Again Pick Roosevelt.

LITTLE CHANCE OF AGREEMENT IN SIGHT

Delegations Are Taking Control Themselves and Favorite Sons' Campaign Managers Are Making No Headway Whatever—Arizona Expected to Yield to New York When Time for Nominations Rolls Around.

Chicago, June 7.—More political leaders are predicting the nomination of Justice Charles Evans Hughes tonight than at any time since the republican national convention began to assemble. They declare that unless the accumulation of overwhelming circumstantial evidence fails to reflect the situation in the true light the nomination of the justice will come even sooner than has been predicted. The men who take this view are practical politicians who do not make estimates unless they are based on a careful canvass of the delegates.

The situation is illustrated best by the fact that conferences between leaders to discuss the availability of different candidates practically have ceased, indicating their belief that a majority of the delegates already have reached a decision to name Justice Hughes.

Convention observers find it impossible not to be impressed by the confident prediction of these leaders who say that the Hughes boom now has grown to such formidable proportions that Colonel Roosevelt no longer holds the veto power which until this afternoon had been conceded to him as part of the program to bring the republican and progressive parties into accord.

HUGHES SEEMS CERTAIN OF VICTORY.

Four days of constant and persistent effort to bring the two parties together, in which the personality of the nominee was subordinated to harmony, failed to bring the results desired and the trend from the outset was definitely toward the nomination of Justice Hughes. Had Colonel Roosevelt announced during this period that he would not support the justice, the leaders were prepared to turn to any one of the regular republican candidates.

The bold and ready speaker, however, and because the managers of other candidates have fostered the Hughes boom for the purpose of eliminating Roosevelt as a possibility, it grew prominently and even a combination of the favorite sons' strength was powerless to check it. The reason for this was that the candidacy of no other republican was widely supported. Delegates pledged to favorite sons found no other presidential possibility but Justice Hughes to whom they could turn their strength. Justice Hughes thus naturally became the choice of practically all delegates instructed for others. They became eager to go to him as soon as they could obtain release from their pledges.

The Hughes managers tonight reiterated their claim that he will have about 300 votes on the first ballot. Frank H. Hitchcock, spokesman for the Hughes followers, said there would be no attempt to nominate the justice on the first ballot and that it was their desire to have all the favorite-son delegates deliver their complimentary votes. He believed, however, that the second ballot, with the release of many delegates from their obligations, would swell the Hughes vote to such proportions that his nomination would almost certainly be made on the third ballot. Many of the Hughes supporters were even more optimistic and said they thought that before the result of the second ballot was announced the drift would be apparent to all delegates and there would be enough changes of votes to bring a nomination.

ARIZONA TO YIELD PLACE TO NEW YORK.

The Hughes managers expect Arizona, second on the roll of states, to yield to New York, so Governor Whitman may place Justice Hughes in nomination. At

Wills Point Couple Killed; Son-in-Law Under Arrest

Wills Point, Texas, June 7.—R. J. Morau, son-in-law of H. F. Goodnight, president of the Van Zandt National bank, who with his wife were killed in their home early today, and Mrs. Morau seriously injured, was arrested late today and formally charged with murder.

After being taken into custody Morau was removed from Wills Point by the county sheriff and other officers and it is believed they were en route to Canton.

Mrs. Goodnight was found dead at 2:30 this afternoon without having regained consciousness. Physicians say that she was discovered that the house was in order and apparently nothing was missing.

All three members of the family apparently were beaten with a heavy sharp instrument which the police believe was an axe. Motive for the killing is lacking. An early investigation, which exploded the robbery theory when it was discovered that the house was in order and apparently nothing was missing.

one time it was said Alabama would yield to New York, but it developed that the delegation was divided between two or more candidates and having no candidate to offer would pass when the state was called.

When the Hughes tide became apparent late tonight many profess that there is no chance of agreement with the republicans. The answer was that such a contingency would in nowise be taken into consideration by Mr. Hughes. It seems practically certain that the progressive national convention again will nominate Roosevelt as their chief standard bearer and it is not at all unlikely that Governor Hiram Johnson of California will be drafted also so that their ticket will be the same as in 1912—Roosevelt and Johnson.

TWO TICKETS NOW PROBABILITY.

Many of the progressive leaders argue that they have no course other than to name their former ticket, as efforts to reach an agreement with the republicans for a return to the older party have failed. The more conservative progressives hope to forestall action in their convention until Friday because a few of the delegates still profess that there is some prospect of reaching an agreement with the republican managers.

Neither the republican nor the progressive convention appointed committees today to confer with each other respecting peace plans as had been expected. They may do so tomorrow, but there is opposition in both conventions to such a course. Both feared difficulty in selecting the personnel of any conference committees.

Before the demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt in the progressive convention today it was suggested the party might name a candidate other than Colonel Roosevelt and that later, if the republicans named Justice Hughes and his speech of acceptance proved satisfactory, the progressive candidates would withdraw in the interest of harmony and a united front to the democratic party at the polls would be presented. This plan, however, has been abandoned.

Railroad Managers Still Conferring With Employees

New York, June 7.—The refusal of Elisha Lee, chairman of the managers of the railroads of the United States, to answer questions asked by the employees' representatives as to just where the railroads stood on the wage scale, the objective point of their conference here, brought forth a storm of protest from the questioners and threats to terminate the conference were reiterated by the union leaders.

The union men charged the managers with bad faith and declared the latter had made them run a gamut of questions, but were unwilling to submit to questions themselves. Mr. Lee finally restored order by saying "Now I get your point of view," and signified his intention to answer the questions. He explained the roads needed time to figure out the rate presented.

Wills Point Couple Killed; Son-in-Law Under Arrest

According to the story told by the son-in-law, R. J. Morau, he was awakened by the screams of his wife about 2:30 this morning. Hastening to her bedroom, he found her lying on her back in an unconscious condition. Going to the second floor of the house, he is reported to have said he found Mr. Goodnight almost dying in his bedroom.

The body of Mrs. Goodnight was found in the basement of the house, apparently having been carried there from her bedroom. Her head was crushed and death apparently had been instantaneous.

The arrest of Morau came as a climax to an investigation by the sheriff and police which lasted throughout the day.

Taken to Canton.

Canton, Texas, June 7.—R. J. Morau of Wills Point, charged with the murder of his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Goodnight, was brought here late today and placed in the county jail. No date has been set for his examining trial. The prisoner made no statement.

Leaders Powerless to Stop Multitude Which Shouts Itself Hoarse Every Time Chairman Robins Alludes to Roosevelt—Temporary Committees Named—First Day Ends Without Offhand Nomination of Colonel.

Chicago, June 7.—The progressive national convention opened in the Auditorium today with a record breaking demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt. For one hour and thirty-three minutes the delegates and spectators roared, shouted, cheered and applauded. They sang the progressive battle hymns, paraded the aisles and over the stage, and howled down all attempts to check them.

The demonstration exceeded the previous record for such affairs of one hour and twenty-nine minutes, established in 1908 in behalf of William J. Bryan, which had exceeded by four minutes the record made that same year in the republican convention in Chicago when Colonel Roosevelt's supporters sought his nomination over William H. Taft.

Raymond Robins, temporary chairman of the convention, had spoken just three sentences of his keynote speech when he mentioned Colonel Roosevelt's name. A wave of enthusiasm that amounted to nothing less than a paroxysm resulted.

"The foremost citizen of the world" was the characterization Robins used in connection with his mention of the colonel's name. The response was instantaneous. "We want Teddy," roared the delegates, and the demonstration was on. With umbrellas raised they began marching about the hall. Hamilton Fish Jr. and another man seized a delegate bearing an American flag and carried him around the hall on their shoulders. Banners were torn from their places and stanchions were lifted from the floor as the shouting host tramped around.

SING "ONWARD, CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS."

Chairman Robins made several attempts to quell the demonstration, but after a few raps of the gavel gave it up. The band chimed in with the progressive battle hymns and soon the surging crowd was tramping the aisles to the strains of "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Despite the handicap of the steps leading into the balcony the demonstration spread there and soon the spectators in the balconies joined in. Banners were snatched from their hangings and waved bearing these inscriptions:

"Teddy and safety first."
"If Teddy was president where would Villa be?"
"The people want T. R., a regular American."

"Why take chances? We know what Roosevelt can do."
"We want Teddy," and other progressive slogans.

Then the band switched to "Marching Through Georgia" and a medley of popular airs and the aisles became so blocked that no one moved for several minutes. While the marchers stood still in the jam they kept up the din and after it had been going an hour, George W. Perkins left the stage and decided to go to his hotel and wait for it to subside. The Michigan delegation tramped in from the rain outside and their leaders demanded an outdoor demonstration.

TEDDY "NOT AFRAID OF RAIN."

"Teddy is not afraid of the rain," they shouted; "get out and march," and they filed from the hall into the deluge outside chanting "Teddy, you're a bear." Some of the delegates returned in their soggy garments with banners and flags bedraggled and bidders of their enthusiasm was not dampened, for they joined the marching, roaring throng again.

The leaders impressed, by what they realized might have been the difficulty of holding the convention from proceeding immediately to nominations, then discussed means to quiet the uproar.

"Let them yell," counseled one of the leaders. "Now that they have shouted it will be easier to delay action on a nomination."

DISCUSS USING THE POLICE FORCE.

A proposal to use the uniformed police to quell the demonstration was discussed among the leaders, but it was decided that the experiment was too dangerous. Meanwhile, scouts came in with the report that the republican convention at the Coliseum had adjourned and had not been marked by any special enthusiasm. Their arrival was the signal for another outbreak. Chairman Robins finally gave up the gavel and took up a "big stick." The crowd caught the point and began to quiet down.

Finally at 2:37 o'clock Mr. Robins resumed his speech, after telling the leaders that he would not risk mentioning the colonel's name again. During the remainder of his address there were outbursts and demonstrations, but they were short. When Mr. Robins declared the American people were waiting for the progressive convention to name a leader the delegates chorused:

"We'll name him."
When Mr. Robins referred to Colonel Roosevelt at another point as the "favorite son of the nation," there was another outburst and at the close of his address there were yells of "Three cheers for Robins." The chairman rapped them down with his gavel and announced that the convention would proceed with its business. He explained to the delegates that it was

Suffrage and Labor Planks Asked From Republicans

Coliseum, Chicago, June 7.—The committee on resolutions of the republican national convention had its first hearing at the Coliseum late today on matters which various interests desire to have dealt with in the party's platform.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, presided. Three delegations of women were heard on the equal suffrage question and a committee representing union labor urged planks it desired placed in the platform. The women's delegation represented the National American Woman's Suffrage association, the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage and the Woman's Anti-Suffrage association.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman's association, presented a memorial at a meeting of suffragists here today. This memorial requested the committee to insert in the republican platform the following proposed plank: "The republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people, favors the extension of the suffrage to women as a measure of justice to one-half the adult people of this country."

Mrs. Abbie E. Krebs, a delegate-at-large from California to the republican convention, told the committee that the republican party would never regret its action of putting a woman's suffrage plank in the platform. Several other women followed.

The National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage then was given a hearing. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, president, introducing the speakers.

Mrs. Dodge said the organization she represented had members in twenty-four states.

Mrs. Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York state association, proposed a woman suffrage plank in the republican platform at this time, she said, because it was a controversial question and the times were so serious for political parties to take up such matters.

When the anti-s began speaking a request was made to Chairman Lodge to permit thousands of woman suffrage planks to be read at the Coliseum. The senator did not comply, stating that it probably would break up the hearing. Later, however, some one opened the doors and several women had hands poured into the big hall.

As the delegation opposed to suffrage was leaving the platform some of the paraders began hissing but leaders among them quickly suppressed the demonstration.

Representatives of the Woman's Party organized by members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage next were heard. Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch of Kansas said the biggest thing the republican party had done was to write the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments into the constitution.

"You stood by the black man; now we want you to stand by the women," she added.

The resolutions committee then listened to Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, and Frank H. Meyer, secretary of the Federation, asking the committee to adopt planks pledging the party to maintain the federal law securing the workers the legal right of voluntary association for mutual protection and welfare; prohibiting the use of force in the making of any language; and urged the early enactment of a law providing for adequate assistance to public educational institutions in the various states which shall provide for industrial, educational and vocational education in connection with federal provisions and standards.

Mrs. Dodge said the organization she represented had members in twenty-four states.

Mrs. Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York state association, proposed a woman suffrage plank in the republican platform at this time, she said, because it was a controversial question and the times were so serious for political parties to take up such matters.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE ANNOUNCED

Dr. Charles Bray Williams of Ft. Worth Delivers Address, Taking as Subject "Culture's Uncanceled Account"—Dr. Brooks Addresses Senior Class and Confers Degrees.

The rain was a factor in preventing the commencement procession from being carried out yesterday morning on Baylor campus, but the friends of the students and the candidates for degrees gathered in large numbers in Carroll chapel at 10 o'clock to witness and take part in the seventy-first annual commencement of Baylor university.

The exercises were opened with the invocation, led by Dr. H. C. Munger, pastor of the Morrow Street Methodist church. After this John de Heck sang two songs from Schubert, which was followed by the commencement address by Charles Bray Williams, Ph. D., D. D., of Fort Worth.

Dr. Williams' subject was "Culture's Uncanceled Account." The college man can be as mighty with his culture as the rich man with his money. He then pleaded with them to lay their culture on the altar of humanity. The chief aim of each individual member of the class should be to serve his country and his fellow men. He urged them to turn the light of culture in the dark corners of the world, because three-fourths of this world are in darkness and need the influence and labors of cultured people.

"It is ours to displace this darkness, with the light and learning we enjoy," he said. He summoned the men of culture to pay the debt of knowledge to their unfortunate brothers who have not had the opportunities of learning that come to the college man. He referred to Burbank as developing plants to a higher state of cultivation, and then asked the question, "Why cannot educated men improve the human race?"

It is most true that the race has been propagated by a class that is

HUGHES IS CALMEST OF THE CANDIDATES

Justice Charles E. Hughes. (photographed last week in Washington).

Justice Charles E. Hughes is the calmest and most unflinching of all the Republican candidates for the presidential nomination. To see him on his quiet morning walk in the national capital one would hardly suspect that the supreme moment in his life's history was at hand.

REPUBLICANS QUIET AT CONVENTION AND LACK ENTHUSIASM

Chicago, June 7.—The republican national convention assembled in the Coliseum today, heard a keynote speech delivered by Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, perfected an organization and adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. It all took just two hours and its lack of demonstration or outbursts of any kind and its strict attention to the business in hand was reminiscent of the Philadelphia convention of 1890 that nominated McKinley and Roosevelt.

For one hour and twenty minutes, Senator Harding, the temporary chairman, delivered a carefully prepared speech, punctuated in the telling points with brief periods of hand-clapping and applause, but at no time did a demonstration occupy more than a half hour.

The convention was twenty-five minutes behind the hour arranged for its assembly, but when Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the republican national committee brought down his gavel at 11:25 o'clock it moved quickly and with precision until adjournment at 12.

These of the old-time leaders present who used to march down the aisles to their seats to the tune of an uproar walked in today almost unrecognized. W. Murray Crane, Senator Lodge, Senators Smoot, Reed and a lot of others came in practically unnoticed, probably because a majority of delegates did not even know them by sight. Chauncey Depew was surrounded by a small admiring group; Senator Penrose got a reception from his own delegation; Governor Whitman was recognized by some, but on the whole the convention was more interested in wondering what was going on in the Auditorium than it was in the arrival of the men who had hitherto decided what the convention should do with itself.

DELEGATES STAND AROUND AND TALK.

The hour for assembling was set for 11 o'clock, but there was no semblance of order at that time and no one made any pretense of seeing it. The delegates stood about the floor and talked, the spectators overflowed into the spaces reserved for the delegates and hundreds of seats on the floor and in the galleries were empty. Finally Chairman Hilles gave signs of calling the convention to order and the uniformed police began moving about, urging the delegates into their places.

Finally at 11:25 o'clock Chairman Hilles brought down the gavel with Hughes Boom Has Grown to Such Proportions That Leaders Believe Republicans Will Name Associate Justice, While All Admit Bull Moose Will Again Pick Roosevelt.

LITTLE CHANCE OF AGREEMENT IN SIGHT

Delegations Are Taking Control Themselves and Favorite Sons' Campaign Managers Are Making No Headway Whatever—Arizona Expected to Yield to New York When Time for Nominations Rolls Around.

Chicago, June 7.—More political leaders are predicting the nomination of Justice Charles Evans Hughes tonight than at any time since the republican national convention began to assemble. They declare that unless the accumulation of overwhelming circumstantial evidence fails to reflect the situation in the true light the nomination of the justice will come even sooner than has been predicted. The men who take this view are practical politicians who do not make estimates unless they are based on a careful canvass of the delegates.

The situation is illustrated best by the fact that conferences between leaders to discuss the availability of different candidates practically have ceased, indicating their belief that a majority of the delegates already have reached a decision to name Justice Hughes.

Convention observers find it impossible not to be impressed by the confident prediction of these leaders who say that the Hughes boom now has grown to such formidable proportions that Colonel Roosevelt no longer holds the veto power which until this afternoon had been conceded to him as part of the program for bringing the republican and progressive parties into accord.

HUGHES SEEMS CERTAIN OF VICTORY.

Four days of constant and persistent effort to bring the two parties together, in which the personality of the nominee was subordinated to harmony, failed to bring the results desired and the trend from the outset was definitely toward the nomination of Justice Hughes. Had Colonel Roosevelt announced during this period that he would not support the justice, the leaders were prepared to turn to any one of the regular republican candidates. The colonel remained silent, however, and because the managers of the other candidates have fostered the Hughes boom for the purpose of eliminating Roosevelt as a possibility, it grew prodigiously and even a combination of the favorite sons' strength was powerless to check it.

The reason for this was that the candidacy of no other republican made any progress and delegates pledged to favorite sons found no other presidential possibility but Justice Hughes to whom they could turn their strength. Justice Hughes thus naturally became the choice of practically all delegates instructed for others. They became eager to go to him as soon as they could obtain release from their pledges.

The Hughes managers tonight reiterated their claim that he will have about 300 votes on the first ballot. Frank H. Meyer, spokesman for the Hughes followers, said there would be no attempt to nominate the justice on the first ballot and that it was their desire to have all the favorite-son delegates deliver their complimentary votes. He believed, however, that the second ballot would be a foregone conclusion. The Hughes vote to such proportions that his nomination would almost certainly be made on the third ballot. Many of the Hughes supporters were even more optimistic and said they thought that before the result of the second ballot was announced the drift would be apparent to all delegates and there would be enough changes of votes to bring a nomination.

ARIZONA TO YIELD PLACE TO NEW YORK.

The Hughes managers expect Arizona, second on the roll of states, to yield to New York, as Governor Morau may place Justice Hughes in nomination. At

Wills Point Couple Killed; Son-in-Law Under Arrest

Wills Point, Texas, June 7.—R. J. Morau, son-in-law of H. F. Goodnight, president of the Van Zandt National bank, who with his wife were killed in their home early today, and Mrs. Morau seriously injured, were arrested late today and formally charged with murder.

After being taken into custody Morau was removed from Wills Point by the county sheriff and other officers and it is believed they were en route to Canton.

Mrs. Goodnight was found dead this morning and her husband died at 2:30 this afternoon without having regained consciousness. Physicians say that Mrs. Morau probably will recover, although she had not regained consciousness early tonight.

All three members of the family apparently were beaten with a heavy sharp instrument which the police believe was an axe. Motive for the killing is lacking. An early investigation exploded the robbery theory when it was discovered that the house was in order and apparently nothing was missing.

one time it was said Alabama would yield to New York, but it developed that the delegation was divided between two or more candidates and having no candidate to offer would pass when the state was called.

When the Hughes tide became apparent late tonight many inquiries were made of those who are supposed to speak for him as to whether his acceptance in case of nomination would be in any sense contingent upon a third party nomination by the progressives. The answer was that such a contingency would in no wise be taken into consideration by Mr. Hughes. It seems practically certain that the progressive national convention again will nominate Roosevelt as their chief standard bearer and it is not at all unlikely that Governor Hiram Johnson of California will be drafted also so that their ticket will be the same as in 1912—Roosevelt and Johnson.

TWO TICKETS NOW PROBABILITY.

Many of the progressive leaders argue that they have no course other than to name their former ticket, as efforts to reach an agreement with the republicans for a return to the older party have failed. The more conservative progressives hope for forestal action in their convention until Friday because a few of the leaders still profess that there is some prospect of reaching an agreement with the republican managers.

Neither the republican nor the progressive convention appointed committees today to confer with each other respecting peace plans as had been expected. They may do so tomorrow, but there is opposition in both conventions to such a course. Both feared difficulty in selecting the personnel of any conference committees.

Before the demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt in the progressive convention today it was suggested the party might name a candidate other than Colonel Roosevelt and that later, if the republicans named Justice Hughes and his speech of acceptance proved satisfactory, the progressive candidate would withdraw in the interest of harmony and a united front to the democratic party at the polls would be presented. This plan, however, has been abandoned.

Railroad Managers Still Conferring With Employees

New York, June 7.—The refusal of Elisha Lee, chairman of the managers of the railroads of the United States, to answer questions asked by the employees' representatives as to just where the railroads stood on the wage scale, the objective point of their conference here, brought forth a storm of protest from the questioners and threats to terminate the conference were reiterated by the union leaders.

The union men charged the managers with bad faith and declared the latter had made them run the gamut of questions but, were unwilling to submit to questions themselves. Mr. Lee finally restored order by saying "Now I get your point of view," and signified his intention to answer the questions. He explained the need needed time to figure out the rate presented.

Atlanta Secures Two from Cubs

Nashville, Tenn., June 7.—Manager Frank of the Atlanta Southern association club announced today that Steve Yerkes, a second baseman, and Mike Doonan, a shortstop, had been secured from the Chicago National league club, and Frank Crossin, a catcher, bought from the Louisville American association club.

According to the story told by the son-in-law, R. J. Morau, he was awakened by the screams of his wife about 3:30 this morning. Hastening to her bedroom, he found her lying on her bed in an unconscious condition. Going to the second floor of the house he is reported to have said he found Mr. Goodnight almost dying in his bedroom.

The body of Mrs. Goodnight was found in the basement of the house, apparently having been carried there from her bedroom. Her head was crushed and death apparently had been instantaneous.

The arrest of Morau came as a climax to an investigation by the sheriff and police which lasted throughout the day.

Taken to Canton.

Canton, Texas, June 7.—R. J. Morau of Wills Point, charged with the murder of his father-in-law and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Goodnight, was brought here late today and placed in the county jail. No date has been set for his examining trial. The prisoner made no statement.

DEMOCRATS WILL STAND BY PRESIDENT

Washington, June 7.—The outcome of the administration's efforts to keep the United States out of war and at the same time maintain national honor would be the foundation of the foreign affairs plank and one of the emphasized points in the platform to be adopted by the democratic national convention at St. Louis, according to authoritative information obtained tonight from administration sources. Since the renomination of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall is regarded as assured the platform now is receiving the chief attention of democratic leaders.

As a result of conferences with members of his cabinet and other advisers President Wilson, who began work several days ago on a platform to be submitted to the convention by party leaders, virtually has completed a preliminary draft, leaving only details to be finished after the republican and progressive conventions at Chicago. The president has utilized as a basis for this work features of the Missouri state democratic platform which was prepared by officials made known tonight under the direction of the White House.

Following out this idea it is understood that the national platform will declare the success of the administration in guarding the honor and interests of the United States in the face of obstacles and at the same time keeping the nation at peace. The administration's championship against all belligerents of the rights of America and all neutrals on the high seas will be praised with the statement that the results will be of great importance to American commerce.

The Mexican situation will be referred to by praise of the president's action in refusing to allow the nation to be drawn into the internal strife raging in Mexico and of his prompt action in ordering troops across the border after the Columbus massacre.

Another section is expected to laud the administration for maintaining the Monroe doctrine and fostering a fair dealing with the other republics of the western hemisphere resulting in the building up of trade with those nations.

Finally, it is understood the foreign affairs plank will align the party behind the president in placing "America first" with reference to all questions both international and domestic. The tariff is expected to be the subject of an important plank, the platform coupling the Underwood revision with the currency law and other constructive legislation of the past four years in a prosperity declaration. President Wilson's pro-trade program will occupy another prominent place in the platform.

It is indicated by administration officials that the plank dealing with the tariff will embody the substance of an unpublished letter written by the president in 1914 to Senator Underwood, then majority leader of the house. The president wrote that the principle followed in the democratic tariff was that "each duty levied was to be tested by the inquiry whether it was put at such a figure and levied in such a manner as to provoke competition."

He also declared it was clear that "the reduction of the tariff, the simplification of its schedules so as to cut away the jungle in which secret agencies had so long worked, the correction of its inaccuracies and its thorough recasting with the single object of revenue, were an indispensable first step to re-establishing competition."

Cavalrymen Sent to Guard Against De la Rosa Raid

San Antonio, June 7.—Two troops of the Fourteenth Cavalry, Captain Sirmeyer commanding, left Laredo today to patrol the Rio Grande near San Ignacio and Zapata to prevent if possible a raid by Luis de la Rosa and 400 followers, reported moving towards the border.

It was reported that troops from Fort Ringgold are also being moved up the river in the direction of Zapata. Information reaching here today was that De la Rosa, occupying a special car said to have been provided him by the constitutionalist lines in Mexico, left for the vicinity of Matamoros Monday night, but that he left the train before reaching Matamoros and was met by a party of his followers about fifty miles from that place and taken in an automobile to a point in the direction of Rio Grande City. All along the river front from El Paso to Laredo a lookout is being kept for De la Rosa and his men.

Arkansas Storm Death List Grows

Little Rock, Ark., June 7.—Three deaths reported today brought the list of Arkansas victims of Monday's tornadoes up to seventy-nine. Sixty of the dead were men and nineteen were women.

The names of additional persons injured brought the list up to at least 400, the condition of nearly twenty being reported serious. Appeals for help were received in Little Rock from Cabot and Heber Springs and the work of raising a relief fund begun.

Divorce Simplified in Mexico

Mexico City, June 7.—In the event of a separation between husband and wife, either party may appear before proper municipal authorities and receive a certificate which will entitle them to remarry, according to a decree issued by Gen. Venustiano Carranza. The decree is an amendment of a similar act known as the law of December 23, 1914.

TO NAME MARSHALL AT ST. LOUIS MEET

Senator John W. Kern.

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana will make the nominating speech for Thomas R. Marshall at the St. Louis convention. Marshall likes being vice president and the Hoosier delegates at the big Democratic meeting will insist that he again be made President Wilson's running mate.

Texas Cadet Leads West Point Squad in Rifle Drill

West Point, N. Y., June 7.—Rain dampened the ardor of "June week" visitors and caused the cancellation of all the military exhibitions set for the afternoon. Two squads of cadets participated in a drill with six-inch rifles in the forenoon. Twenty shots were fired at a floating target in the Hudson 3,000 yards distant, every one of which scored a "hit." Cadet E. L. Ford of Connecticut was in charge of one squad and Cadet J. B. Beacham of Texas the other. The first big "hop" of the week was held tonight.

New Money for Mexico.

The band launched into the air and led by a male quartette the floor and galleries joined in a mighty chorus that swept through the big coliseum. There was a moment of confusion at the end of singing as the delegates found their seats again and then the Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago read a prayer. The big audience remained seated at his request.

Secretary Reynolds then read the call for the convention, which was published last December. It was only a formality. None of the delegates waited to hear it, so they talked and moved about while Mr. Reynolds kept on.

TAKE AUTO RIDE THROUGH DRIVING RAIN.

The delegates piled out into the driving rain, where they found 100 automobiles, furnished by Mayor Thompson's reception committee waiting for them. The committeemen assembled in hotels, and the resolutions committee returned to the Coliseum to give a public hearing to any who wanted to suggest planks in the platform. The first day's work was over quickly and comparatively quiet with every one talking about the placid, matter-of-fact way things had started off.

McGraw Wins in Oklahoma.

Chicago, June 7.—John R. Hadley and Charles G. Moore, contesting delegates from the Fifth Oklahoma district, were seated, reversing the action of the national committee which placed A. B. Wood and O. A. Mitscher on the temporary roll.

It was a victory for the faction of J. J. McGraw, elected national committeeman today.

The regularity of convention calls was in question on the contest. Al B. Wood, who died in a Chicago hotel the day his name was placed on the temporary roll, was a friend of former Senator Burton. Mitscher had been regarded as favoring Roosevelt.

The action of the national committee in seating the McGraw delegates from the Sixth district of Oklahoma was sustained.

Republican Committeemen.

Resolutions—Arkansas, John I. Worthington; Kansas, Charles F. Scott; Louisiana, S. P. Truitt; Mississippi, J. B. Redmond; Missouri, Berryman Henwood; Oklahoma, T. B. Ferguson; Tennessee, S. B. Anderson; Texas, Eugene Marshall.

Credentials—Arkansas, A. J. Russell; Kansas, W. Y. Morgan; Louisiana, F. C. Labit; Mississippi, W. F. Elgin; Missouri, Harry Clymer; Oklahoma, John Fields; Tennessee, R. S. Hopkins; Texas, T. J. Darling.

BURKETT BOOMED FOR VICE PRESIDENCY

Elmer J. Burkett. A vice presidential boom for Senator Elmer J. Burkett of Nebraska is under way, and it is said already between 250 and 300 delegates to the Republican national convention are pledged to place him on the national ticket of his party.

ings by the credentials committee of the republican national convention, there will be 987 votes in the convention. Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico were granted votes, but Porto Rico did not send a delegation. The District of Columbia will be without representation in the convention, as the committee refused to seat any one of three contesting delegates. Senator Reed Smoot of Utah was elected chairman of the committee over W. Y. Morgan of Kansas.

MacGregor Re-elected.

Arkansas, H. L. Remmel; Kansas, Fred E. Stanley; Louisiana, Armand Romain; Mississippi, L. B. Moseley; Missouri, J. A. Babler; Oklahoma, J. J. McGraw; Tennessee, Jesse M. Littleton; Texas, H. F. MacGregor.

 Baton Rouge, La., June 7.—The Louisiana house today defeated the measure which would provide for submitting to the voters a constitutional amendment granting the ballot to Louisiana women. The vote was 69 to 49 against the bill.

DEMOCRATS WILL STAND BY PRESIDENT

Washington, June 7.—The outcome of the administration's efforts to keep the United States out of war and at the same time maintain national honor would be the foundation of the foreign affairs plank and one of the emphasized points in the platform to be adopted by the democratic national convention at St. Louis, according to authoritative information obtained tonight from administration sources. Since the renomination of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall is regarded as assured the platform now is receiving the chief attention of democratic leaders.

As a result of conferences with members of his cabinet and other advisers President Wilson, who began work several days ago on a platform to be submitted to the convention by party leaders, virtually has completed a preliminary draft, leaving only details to be finished after the republican and progressive conventions at Chicago. The president has utilized as a basis for this work features of the Missouri state democratic platform which was prepared, officials made known tonight, under the direction of the White House.

Following out this idea it is understood that the national platform will declare the success of the administration in guarding the honor and interests of the United States in the face of obstacles and at the same time keeping the nation at peace. The administration's championship against all belligerents of the rights of America and all neutrals on the high seas will be praised with the statement that the results will be of great importance to American commerce.

The Mexican situation will be referred to by praise of the president's action in refusing to allow the nation to be drawn into the internal strife raging in Mexico and of his prompt action in ordering troops across the border after the Columbus massacre.

Another section is expected to laud the administration for maintaining the Monroe doctrine and fostering a fair dealing with the other republics of the western hemisphere resulting in the building up of trade with those nations.

Finally, it is understood the foreign affairs plank will align the party behind the president in placing "America first" with reference to all questions both international and domestic.

The tariff is expected to be the subject of an important plank, the platform coupling the Underwood revision with the currency law and other constructive legislation of the past four years in a prosperity declaration. President Wilson's preparedness program will occupy another prominent place in the platform.

It is indicated by administration officials that the plank dealing with the tariff will embody the substance of an unpublished letter written by the president in 1914 to Senator Underwood, then majority leader of the house.

The president wrote that the principle followed in the democratic tariff was that "each duty levied was to be tested by the inquiry whether it was put at such a figure and level in such a manner as to provoke competition."

He also declared it was clear that "the reduction of the tariff, the simplification of its schedules so as to cut away the jungle in which secret agencies had so long worked, the correction of its inaccuracies and its thorough recasting with the single object of revenue," were an indispensable first step to re-establishing competition.

Cavalrymen Sent to Guard Against De la Rosa Raid

San Antonio, June 7.—Two troops of the Fourteenth Cavalry, Captain Sirmeyer commanding, left Laredo today to patrol the Rio Grande near San Ignacio and Zapata to prevent if possible a raid by Luis de la Rosa and 400 followers, reported moving towards the border.

It was reported that troops from Fort Ringgold are also being moved up the river in the direction of Zapata.

Information reaching here today was that De la Rosa, occupying a special car said to have been provided him by the constitutional list in Mexico, left for the vicinity of Matamoros Monday night, but that he left the Monday before reaching Matamoros and was met by a party of his followers about fifty miles from that place and taken in an automobile to a point in the direction of Rio Grande City. All along the river front from Rio Grande City to Laredo a lookout is being kept for De la Rosa and his men.

Arkansas Storm Death List Grows

Little Rock, Ark., June 7.—Three deaths reported today brought the list of Arkansas victims of Monday's tornadoes up to seventy-nine. Sixty of the dead were white and nineteen negroes.

The names of additional persons injured brought the list up to at least 490, the condition of nearly twenty being reported serious.

Divorce Simplified in Mexico

Mexico City, June 7.—In the event of a separation between husband and wife, either party may appear before proper municipal authorities and receive a certificate which will entitle them to remarry, according to a decree issued by Gen. Venustiano Carranza. The decree is an amplification of a similar act known as the law of December 29, 1914.

TO NAME MARSHALL AT ST. LOUIS MEET

Senator John W. Kern.

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana will make the nominating speech for Thomas R. Marshall at the St. Louis convention. Marshall likes being vice president and the Hoosier delegates at the big Democratic meeting will insist that he again be made President Wilson's running mate.

Texas Cadet Leads West Point Squad in Rifle Drill

West Point, N. Y., June 7.—Rain dampened the ardor of "June week" visitors and caused the cancellation of all the military exhibitions set for the afternoon. Two squads of cadets participated in a drill with six-inch rifles in the forenoon. Twenty shots were fired at a floating target in the Hudson 3,000 yards distant, every one of which scored a "hit." Cadet E. L. Don of Connecticut was in charge of one squad and Cadet L. B. Meacham of Texas the other. The first big "hop" of the week was held tonight.

STILL BIG POWER IN G. O. P. COUNCILS

three resounding whacks and quiet settled down over the big hall. "The hour of 11 o'clock having arrived and a quorum being present," said he, "the convention will be in order. Paraphrasing a remark made by the late President McKinley, this is a year—whatever may have been true of past years—when politics is patriotism and patriotism is politics. Therefore, the audience will please rise and sing two verses of 'America.'"

The band launched into the air and led by a male quartette the floor and galleries joined in a mighty chorus that swept through the big coliseum. There was a moment of confusion at the end of singing as the delegates found their seats again and then the Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago read a prayer. The big audience remained seated at his request.

SECRETARY READS CONVENTION CALL.

Secretary Reynolds then read the call for the convention, which was published last December. It was only a formality, so they talked and moved about while Mr. Reynolds kept on.

The reading of the call completed, Chairman Hilles presented Senator Harding of Ohio as temporary chairman and put the question. A rolling chorus of "yes" swept the hall and former Senator Crane, Senator Borah of Idaho and former Representative W. B. McKinley were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Harding to the platform. The Idaho delegation announced that Senator Borah was unavoidably absent, so Mr. Crane and Mr. McKinley marched up with Mr. Harding. His appearance was the signal for the first genuine outburst of applause but it was brief and he plunged into his prepared speech, appealing for harmony, counselling the delegates that it was not a time for "recrimination but a day of reconciliation."

He spoke more than an hour, referring seldom to his manuscript and interrupted frequently by applause and cheers as he scored the democratic administration for inefficiency, incapacity and extravagance and declared the republican party's allegiance to protective tariff and national defense. He closed with a prayer on Americanism and republicanism which was marked with applause lasting less than a minute. The delegates rose to their feet, some cheered, some hats were thrown in the air and there was some waving of handkerchiefs, but they settled down quickly and the temporary chairman recognized in rapid succession speakers from the floor who offered the customary resolutions for perfecting the temporary organization.

TAKE AUTO RIDE THROUGH DRIVING RAIN.

The delegates piled out into the driving rain, where they found 1000 automobiles furnished by Mayor Thompson's reception committee waiting for them. The committee assembled in hotels and the resolutions committee returned later to the Coliseum to give a public hearing to any who wanted to suggest amendments in the platform. The first day's work was over quickly and comparatively quiet with every one talking about the placid, matter-of-fact way things had started off.

All the temporary officers will become permanent officers when the convention assembled tomorrow. That makes Senator Harding of Ohio permanent chairman. The motion to make all the temporary officers permanent was carried without a dissenting vote in the committee on permanent organization.

McGraw Wins in Oklahoma.

Chicago, June 7.—John R. Hadley and Charles G. Moore, contesting delegates from the Fifth Oklahoma district, were seated, reversing the action of the national committee which placed A. B. Wood and O. A. Mitscher on the temporary roll.

It was a victory for the faction of J. J. McGraw, elected national committeeman today.

The regularity of convention calls was in question on the contest. A. B. Wood, who died in a Chicago hotel the day his name was placed on the temporary roll call, was a friend of former Senator Burton. Mitscher had been regarded as favoring Roosevelt.

The action of the national committee in seating the McGraw delegates from the Sixth district of Oklahoma was sustained.

Republican Committeemen.

Resolutions—Arkansas, John I. Worthington; Kansas, Charles F. Scott; Louisiana, S. P. Trufaut; Mississippi, L. B. Redmond; Missouri, Berryman Henwood; Oklahoma, T. B. Ferguson; Tennessee, S. B. Anderson; Texas, Eugene Marshall.

Credentials—Arkansas, A. J. Russell; Kansas, W. Y. Morgan; Louisiana, F. C. Labit; Mississippi, W. P. Elgin; Missouri, Harry Clymer; Oklahoma, John J. Darby; Tennessee, R. S. Hopkins; Texas, T. J. Darling.

987 Republican Delegates.

Chicago, June 7.—As a result of hearing the credentials of the delegates, 987 republican delegates were seated.

Letter Carriers' Trustee's Shortage Is Made Good

Kansas City, June 7.—Securities said to cover the alleged shortage of the accounts of the National Association of Letter Carriers were turned over to a local trust company as a trustee of that organization here today.

The alleged shortage was declared by an investigating committee to be in the books of S. E. Graham, resident trustee of the association, who was arrested last week charged with defalcation. The shortage was estimated at $37,500.

The securities turned over today were declared to represent equities in properties held by Graham.

BURKETT BOOMED FOR VICE PRESIDENCY

Elmer J. Burkett.

A vice presidential boom for Senator Elmer J. Burkett of Nebraska is under way, and it is said already between 250 and 300 delegates to the Republican national convention are pledged to place him on the national ticket of his party.

TALKING FOR T. R.

ings by the credentials committee of the republican national convention, there will be 987 votes in the convention. Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico were granted votes, but Porto Rico did not send a delegation.

The District of Columbia will be without representation in the convention, as the committee refused to seat any one of three contesting delegates. Senator Reed Smoot of Utah was elected chairman of the committee over W. Y. Morgan of Kansas.

MacGregor Re-elected.

Arkansas, H. L. Remmel; Kansas, Fred E. Stanley; Louisiana, Armand Romain; Mississippi, L. B. Moseley; Missouri, J. A. Babier; Oklahoma, J. J. McGraw; Tennessee, Jesse M. Littleton; Texas, H. F. MacGregor.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

BE PREPARED TENTATIVE DRAFT OF PARTY PLATFORM

Chicago, June 7.—National preparedness "in spirit, arms and industry," is the dominant theme of the progressive party's platform, of which a tentative draft was completed tonight by the resolutions committee. It breaks party convention platform records for brevity and consists of a broad statement of conditions facing and remedies needed by the nation rather than the usual formidable array of separate planks.

As to preparedness the platform declares for a navy second in the world's armadas, standing army of 250,000, and "universal opportunity for military training under federal supervision." Social and economic reforms and "social justice," features of the 1912 platform are reaffirmed, "full political suffrage" is endorsed, a permanent expert tariff commission, high protective tariff, regulation of industries, conservation and development of natural resources are urged.

Following is the text of the tentative platform draft:
"This is the year of decision for the nation's future. As we now decide so we shall go forward in righteousness and power or backward in degradation and weakness."
"Of necessity we deal now with the foundations of our national life. We are facing elements of force, of right and wrong, of extreme national peril. Our present choice of path will be irrevocable. The tradition of isolation has been ended. The United States is now part of a world system of civilization. We stand or fall as we prepare to take our part in peace or war and hold our own therein."
"As members of an international community we are subject to certain basic duties:

SECURE CITIZENS IN EVERY RIGHT.

"To secure the rights of our citizens at home and abroad.
"To guard the honor and uphold the integrity of our nation; to maintain the integrity of international law. These are the cornerstones of civilization. We must be strong to defend them."

"The present war shows that it is the supreme duty of civilization to create conditions which will make peace permanent. Our country must be able and ready to take its part in that work. The peace which we desire for our country is not the peace of submission and cowardice, but the peace of justice. We earnestly desire to keep the peace. But there are higher things that we must keep, as Washington and Lincoln kept them for us."

"Adequate provision of the common defense has become the task of foremost national concern. We must be ready in spirit, arms and industry. Preparation in arms requires:

"A navy once more second in battle efficiency.

SYSTEM OF MILITARY TRAINING.

"A system of military training adequate to organize with promptness, behind that first line of the army and navy, a citizen soldiery supplied, armed and controlled by the national government."
"(a) In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training. It is not necessary that this training should be extensive as to interfere with the ordinary pursuits of the citizen, but it should be systematic, efficient, universal and obligatory; proper provision being made for other kinds of public service by those with honest, conscientious scruples or physical disabilities. A voluntary system in effect gives opportunity for military training only to those who are well to do. We should, therefore, give to every citizen the opportunity to obtain at the expense of the federal government sufficient training to perform this duty with efficiency."

"(b) In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new; it has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training. We should, therefore, give to every citizen the opportunity to obtain at the expense of the federal government sufficient training to perform this duty with efficiency."

STAND FOR PEACE, NOT WAR.

"We stand for peace, not war. We believe in preparedness for defense, not for aggression. We should not sacrifice the lives of men for the glory or gain of military conquest. We therefore desire that the women of the country who bear and rear its soldiers and make and keep its homes shall have the full political right of suffrage."

"Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater permanent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare, a prosperity justly distributed, a national life organized in all points for national ends. Four years ago this party was born of a nation's weakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted we set forth our position on public questions. We here reaffirm these declarations.
"A nation must stand for the principles of social and industrial justice. We cannot permit the oppression of any class and expect of that class high ideals of patriotism. We must protect the wage earner, develop country life and remove the artificial causes of the high cost of living. A country must be worth living in to be worth dying for."
"To make possible social justice, to maintain our position in peace and war we must insure business and industrial prosperity. This can be done:
"By a regulation of industry aimed at promoting its growth and prosperity and a just distribution of its returns;
"By a conservation and development of our national resources, human and material."

AGAINST PORK BARREL.
"By making a new standard of governmental efficiency through a complete civil service system, a national budget and the destruction of pork barrel legislation."

"By the creation of a permanent expert tariff commission. The protective system is essential to our national prosperity. Tremendous new pressures will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly-mobilized production of Europe. At all times conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge

LEADING FIGURE AT G. O. P. CONVENTION

Senator Boies Penrose.

Senator Boies Penrose will head the delegation from Pennsylvania at the Republican national convention in St. Louis, Mo., this week. For years Penrose has been one of the most powerful figures in the Republican party, and his influence will go far this year in the selection of a nominee for president, and in the making of the Republican platform.

unaffected by prejudice or politics. We can only secure that knowledge at all times and when needed through a commission.

"We have set forth in this platform the plain essentials of national existence with which most men agree; which any man can propose. They are not new principles. Our urgent and immediate need is for their performance. We have had ample experience with the promise: With words and the bitter taste of words retracted. We must find a man who not alone by words but by past deeds gives guarantee that he can and will make these ideals good. The issue is one of men, in the midst of world changes unparalleled in history we cannot forecast the problems that will confront our government during the war and at its end. We therefore need as president a leader who knows the nation, a man who acts, if we continue longer to stand for words as above deeds, for hopes as above facts we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth."

"We will meet and work with any man or party who sees the nation's need and puts forward a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less, in plan or in the man, and we hereby solemnly charge upon those who place partisan politics above country the sacred responsibility for a nation's future sacrificed to self-interest and spoils."

BURLESON PRICE CIRCLE IN SOCIAL SESSION

With Mesdames Aleck Spencer and Eichelberger as hostesses, the Burleson Price circle enjoyed an unusually pleasant afternoon. No special numbers were prepared other than the usual routine of business and pleasure. The following visitors were present: Mesdames Boyett, Stone, Reed, L. B. Smith, Burns. Mrs. Murphy was welcomed as a new member.

MRS. GEORGE ANSON FOR MRS. FOREWOOD

Mrs. George Anson and Mrs. Coody of 613 South Third street entertained Wednesday afternoon with a forty-two party Mrs. W. A. Forewood, a guest in the home of Mrs. M. W. Mullens of North Fourth, being the honoree. In the personnel of the party the following names appear: Mesdames W. A. Anson, M. W. Mullens, F. W. Mullens, Coody, George Anson, F. S. Morris, J. E. Houser.
After the game appropriate refreshments were served by Mesdames Anson and Coody. The evening was deluged with exclamations of delight and surprise, and Thomas Berry Brazelton was acclaimed the most fortunate young man in Waco.

MRS. RYAN'S PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

A very attractive program, demonstrating the good taste and wide range of attainment of both teacher and pupils, was rendered at the Central Christian church Tuesday, June 6, at 8:15, by the pupils of Mrs. Virginia Ryan.
The class showed a high degree of pianistic training, both in execution and stage appearance. Mrs. Ryan was the gracious recipient of many sincere compliments on behalf of her painstaking teaching. While none of the work was poor, a spark of genius could be glimpsed here and there, and Mrs. Ryan is to be complimented on the especially good material with which she had to labor.
Miss Helen Board won a scholarship for the highest average for the term's work, and Miss Monia Etchison was her close second. Mildred Womack was the honor student of the term in the little pupils under twelve. The large crowd present was entertained in a thoroughly enjoyable manner. The stage was made into a delightful setting for the young talent by an abundance of palms and ferns tastefully arranged.

MARKLAND-McCLAIN WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

A beautiful wedding was that yesterday afternoon at the residence of District Clerk R. V. McClain, 1712 North Fifth street, at which time Miss Ruby McClain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. McClain, was married to Mr. Horace Loraine Markland of San Antonio, Rev. F. S. Groner, pastor of the Columbus Street Baptist church, officiating.

The residence was beautifully decorated, and the occasion was most pleasant in every way, the congratulations being unusually hearty. The groom is a staunch young business man of San Antonio, with the Texas Bitulith company, and holds the confidence and esteem of those who know him to a degree which well attests his worth. The bride, a talented and excellent young girl who is widely admired and who claims to an eminent degree those attributes of mind and heart which endear her to a large circle of friends, was naturally very popular here, and the heartiest good wishes will follow them.

Mr. and Mrs. Markland left at once for Ohio, where the groom has relatives, and after a visit there they will go to San Antonio, where they will reside.

bird had whispered to her, and eager to share the news with others, on Monday morning called together more than sixty intimates of the two families to be brought into closer relationship.

As daintily in all its appointments as the happy young girl herself was the announcement luncheon chosen as a happy medium of communicating the glad tidings. In the center of the big, cool dining room was the table over which the honoree was to preside, and her fresh, blushing young beauty was indeed its brightest ornament. True to the sentiment of the occasion, every detail conformed to the color scheme of white. White sweet peas sent out their wistful appeal for appreciation as an emblem of happiness in their delicate fragrance. The sheen of white satin ribbon vied with the brightness of the eyes which were privileged to read the last chapter of a pretty romance. Cunning little white slippers filled with rice betrayed the secret, even before Miss Esther Woodward, in her own vivacious manner, could make her announcement. Miss Pauline Batteaux pleaded guilty and was deluged with exclamations of delight and surprise, and Thomas Berry Brazelton was acclaimed the most fortunate young man in Waco.

The bridesmaids had already been let into the secret, and were seated at the table with the bride-elect and her maid of honor, Miss Mabel Bunch, Miss Alice Brazelton and Miss Nancy Brazelton, as bridesmaids, and Miss Esther Woodward, as maid of honor, have been selected to accompany the bride to the altar.

At another table, Mrs. Walter Vanderstichin of Llano and Mrs. Carter of Dallas, the chosen matrons of honor, graciously presided. In all there were fifteen tables, all charmingly decorated in white ribbons with centerpiece of sweet peas. Gay nonsense, witty repartee and a daintily served seven-course luncheon kept the guests full busily engaged, until it was time to motor to Waco, where Miss Alice Brazelton had planned a dance at the Elacoco as a fitting climax to the occasion.

As many were present at the dance who were not included in the personnel of the luncheon, the announcement was made in the inside of the dance programs, and the betrothed pair were again made the subjects of joyous congratulations. Ferns and gladioli were used in abundance in the club rooms, while sweet peas graced the supper tables.

The bride-to-be is well known in Waco, having been a frequent visitor, both alone and with Miss Woodward. The groom certainly needs no words of introduction or of appreciation. His

WRITE FOR TWO FREE VACATION BOOKLETS

For the convenience of the 250,000 tourists who will spend their vacation days under the clear, turquoise skies of Picturesque Colorado this summer, the City of Denver and the Denver Tourist Bureau have just completed two beautiful vacation picture booklets that tell where to go, what to see, and how to get there, cost of trips, starting and returning time, hotel and resort accommodations and in fact all necessary information to help the tourists plan, before leaving home, exactly what they are going to do and see in the Colorado Rockies from the time they arrive until they leave for home.

They show actual pictures of scenes in Denver's New Mountain Parks, the Rocky Mountain National Park and other prominent places of interest to tourists and vacation parties. A contour map of the Colorado Rockies from Long's to Pike's Peak, with Denver's 38 short rail, auto and trolley scenic and sightseeing trips is shown in one of these booklets.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulitised cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulitised cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

BULL MOOSE PREPARE TENTATIVE DRAFT OF PARTY PLATFORM

Chicago, June 7.—National preparedness "in spirit, arms and industry," is the dominant theme of the progressive party's platform, of which a tentative draft was completed tonight by the resolutions committee. It breaks party convention platform records for brevity and consists of a broad statement of conditions facing and remedies needed by the nation rather than the usual formidable array of separate planks.

As to preparedness the platform declares for a navy second in the world's armadas, standing army of 250,000, and "universal opportunity for military training under federal supervision." Social and economic reforms and "social justice," features of the 1912 platform, are reaffirmed. "Full political suffrage" is endorsed, a permanent expert tariff commission, high protective tariff, regulation of industries, conservation and development of natural resources are urged.

Following is the text of the tentative platform draft:

"This is the year of decision for the nation's future. As we now decide so we shall go forward in righteousness and power or backward in degradation and weakness.

"Of necessity we deal now with the foundations of our national life. We are facing elements of force, of right and wrong, of extreme national peril. Our present choice of path will be irrevocable. The tradition of isolation has been ended. The United States is now part of a world system of civilization. We stand or fall as we prepare to take our part in peace or war and hold our own therein.

SECURE CITIZENS IN EVERY RIGHT.

"To secure the rights of our citizens at home and abroad.

"To guard the honor and uphold the just influence of our nation; to maintain the integrity of international law. These are the cornerstones of civilization. We must be strong to defend them.

"The present war shows that it is the supreme duty of civilization to create conditions which will make peace permanent. Our country must be able and ready to take its part in that work. The peace which we desire for our country is not the peace of submission and cowardice, but the peace of justice. We earnestly desire to keep this peace. But there are higher things that we must keep, as Washington and Lincoln kept them for us.

"Adequate provision of the common defense has become the task of government. We must be ready in spirit, arms and industry. Preparation in arms requires:

"A navy once more second in battle efficiency.

SYSTEM OF MILITARY TRAINING.

"A system of military training adequate to organize with promptness, and that first line of the army and navy, a citizen soldiery supplied, armed and controlled by the national government.

"(a) In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training. It is not so extensive as to interfere with the ordinary pursuits of the citizen, but it should be systematic, efficient, universal and obligatory; proper provision being made for other kinds of public service. Just plain mulitised cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

"(b) In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training. We should, therefore, give to every citizen the opportunity to obtain at the expense of the federal government sufficient instruction to perform this duty with efficiency.

STAND FOR PEACE, NOT WAR.

"We stand for peace, not war. We believe in preparedness for defense, not for aggression. We should not sacrifice the lives of men for the glory or gain of military conquest. We therefore desire that the women of the country who bear and rear its soldiers and make and keep its homes shall have the full political right of suffrage.

"Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater permanent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare, a prosperity justly distributed, a national life organized in all points for national ends. Four years ago this party was born of a nation's weakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted we set forth our position on public questions. We reaffirm these declarations. We here reaffirm these declarations.

"A nation must stand for the principles of social and industrial justice. We cannot permit the oppression of any class and expect of that class high ideals of patriotism. We must protect the wage earner, develop country life and remove the artificial causes of the high cost of living. A country must be worth living in, to be worth dying for.

"To make possible social justice, to maintain our position in peace and war we must insure business and industrial prosperity. This can be done:

"By a regulation of industry aimed at promoting its growth and prosperity and a just distribution of its returns;

"By a conservation and development of our national resources, human and material;

AGAINST PORK BARREL.

"By making a new standard of governmental efficiency through a complete civil service system, a national budget and the destruction of pork barrel legislation.

"By the creation of a permanent expert tariff commission. The protective system is essential to our national prosperity. Tremendous new pressures will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly-mobilized production of Europe. At all times conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge unaffected by prejudice or politics. We can only secure that knowledge at all times and when needed through a commission.

Senator Boies Penrose.

Senator Boies Penrose will head the delegation from Pennsylvania at the Republican national convention in St. Louis, Mo., for years Penrose has been one of the most powerful figures in the Republican party, and his influence will go far this year in the selection of a nominee for president, and in the making of the Republican platform.

"We have set forth in this platform the plain essentials of national existence with which most men agree; which any man can propose and not new principles. Our urgent and immediate need is for their performance. We have had ample experience with the promise of words and the bitter taste of words retracted. We must find a man who not alone by words but by past deeds gives guarantee that he can and will make these ideals good. The issue is one of men. In the midst of world changes unparalleled in history we cannot forecast the problems that will confront our government during the war and at its end. We therefore need as president a leader who knows the nation, a man who acts, if we continue longer to stand for words as above deeds, for hopes as above facts we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth.

"We will meet and work with any man or party who sees the nation's need and puts forward a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less, in plan or in the man, and we hereby solemnly charge upon those who place partisan politics above country the dread responsibility for a nation's future sacrificed to self-interest and spoils."

Some of the most notable personages in history were those who by the manner of their death accomplished more than they were ever able to accomplish while living. Such will be the fate of Kitchener. His tragic death is a call to arms which will stir England as no other event has stirred it. English pulsation is slow, but when aroused, it moves with the force of a trip hammer.
Most of England's wars have been with minor nations. Kitchener alone, of all her leaders, seemed to appreciate the magnitude of the task she had to face.
Slowly the realization has come to her people. She was outfought by the Boers until she waked up. Has the awakening come at last? We shall see.

One of the pleasant reflections which springs from those Chicago circuses is that the longer they last, the better convinced the people of the country will be that the republican party is a side show and that the real entertainment will soon open at St. Louis.

That proposal said to have been made to Teddy to let him write the platform and to give the candidate to the other fellows evidently did not appear very strongly to him. He is something of a gold-bricker himself.

Mr. Jed Adams of Dallas says he has seen Senator Culberson and his health is all right. We seem to be passing from the stage of doctors' certificates to the era of laymen's certificates.

A new Richmond is in the field for attorney general, Mr. Charles T. Rowland of Fort Worth. Somebody ought to warn him to look out for stray shot from that Looney-Woods fusillade.

China was never known to be in a hurry, but the fate of Yuan Shi Kai seems to indicate that she is stretching her legs for a sprinting match with Mexico.

To the old guard of the standpatters,

Texas Siftings

Construction of a handsome tugboat for the Texas-Louisiana Navigation company was completed at the Beaumont ship yards Monday. This is one of the largest and finest boats built in the local yards for several years. She is 51 feet long, 14 feet wide and is equipped with a 60-horsepower Lamb engine. She operates by either gasoline or naphtha. The craft cost $6,000.

John O'Rourke of Dallas, 23 years old, received a bad gash on the head Tuesday when a brick fell five stories from the old Imperial hotel building and struck him on the head. While the blow was terrific, it did not knock O'Rourke down, it was said.

end to the other with tickets at four-bits a throw.

F. T. Roche, who is attending the Texas Press association from Georaccident Tuesday. An automobile in which he was riding collided with a truck. He was thrown out of the car and severely injured, but not seriously.

The driver of the car was also injured. It was not necessary to send the Georgetown editor to the hospital.

JITNEY ORDINANCE HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

SUPREME COURT ADVANCES CASE INVOLVING RUN-OFF
SENATORIAL PRIMARY.

Several McLennan County Suits Are Acted Upon by State's Higher Tribunals.

Austin, June 7.—The supreme court today refused the application for a writ of error in the case of R. F.
Greene vs. City of San Antonio, from Bexar county, thereby sustaining the holding of the Fourth court of civil appeals that the ordinance passed by the city council of San Antonio for the regulation of the operation of jitneys is constitutional.

In the case of Sam Boone vs. Paul Waples et al., from Tarrant county, involving the constitutionality of the law for a second primary for United States senator, motion to advance was submitted and granted by the supreme court today. The cause was set for submission June 14.

Williams et al., from Travis, three motions by appellants; St. Louis S. W. Ry.
Co. of Texas vs. Walter Downs, from McLennan.

Rehearings refused: Merchants and Bankers Fire Underwriters vs. W. C. Brooks, from Hamilton, the motion for rehearing was granted in part and in part overruled, granted to the extent of correcting the judgment from which writ could run and overruled in other respects.

Copious Rains at Aquila.

Aquila, June 7.—A light rain fell here last night, accompanied by some hail and wind, but no damage was reported. A heavy rain began falling about 1 o'clock, and continued on and ing up till noon and still raining. The rain will be very beneficial to the crops in this section and everything is pointing to good times this year.

Commission Amends Tariff.

Austin, June 7.—The railroad commission today issued an order, effective July 1, amending its new tariffs on canned goods and packing house products so as to apply the canned goods rate on canned soups, pork and beans and chili con carne instead of the packing house products rate.

Texas Steel Company Chartered.

Austin, June 7.—The secretary of state's department approved and filed the charter of the Texas Steel company of Beaumont, capital stock $2, 500,000. Incorporated by L. P. Feath-erston, president; B. B. Baker, vice president. Purpose, to manufacture iron and steel products.

November 1 Last Year. Such of these lands as are not paid on by August 15 will be forfeited and if then redeemed by September 1 will be for sale on that date.

The raising of pigeons will be the occupation of many small boys in San Antonio, out of school, for their vacation. The boys have heard of the wonderful market for squabs and several of them have formed "stock companies" to raise them for the markets.

A charter was granted at Austin
Tuesday for the "Quail's-Scotsgate" Martin Cattle company. The capital stock is $400,000 and is fully paid up.
The purpose of the corporation is to raise, buy and sell cattle in Harris and adjoining counties.

H. A. Wroe of Austin, who with G.

Mendel Booth of Taylor will represent the Austin banking district in the conference of national bankers at St.
Louis June 10, will leave Austin on Thursday for the conference.

RAIN PUTS STOP TO SPECIAL FROM ENNIS

MARLIN CITY COUNCIL LEVIES TAX RATE OF $1.50 FOR CUR-RENT YEAR.

Prizes in Hog Calling Contest Will Be Awarded Next Saturday.

Marlin, June 7.—Much disappointment was occasioned the baseball fans of Marlin today by the rain, which caused the calling off of the final game between Marlin and Ennis, which Marlin was determined to win after having been defeated twice in succession by the Railroaders. A special train had been arranged to come from Ennis bringing 300 rooters to the game, but the train was cancelled this morning on account of rain.

The rainfall in Marlin since the beginning of a brilliant electrical storm Tuesday night at 10 o'clock to 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the sun came out in full strength once more, measured 2.44 inches, the greater part of which fell since 8 o'clock this morning. No serious damage was done by the wind, rain or hail in Marlin, but several light wires were damaged, some telephones put out of commission and other minor things injured.

At the meeting of the city council this morning the tax rate for the current year was levied, which counting in the levy of 26 cents to cover the public improvement bonds recently sold, takes the limit of $1.50 on the one hundred dollars property valuation.

The city council this morning accepted the resignation of Alderman Nelson Lee, who is moving to Hillsboro, and called an election for Tuesday, June 27, for the purpose of electing his successor.

County Agricultural Agent N. C.
Chaney advises he is expecting about 250 Boys' club members to attend the County club day exercises in Marlin Saturday, at which time addresses will be made by members of prominent agricultural experts and prizes will be awarded in hog calling contests and a horse saddling contest.

The following Waco people are among the guests at local hotels: Harold Shear, R. D. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs.
R. W. Wright, Dr. R. M. McDaniel, Miss Erma McDaniel, O. S. Hargrove,
Geo. W. Irvin, Jr., Dr. W. R. Clifton,
J. F. Hopkins, L. A. Kelly, W. Taylor,
A. C. Weibusch, M. H. Park, C. C.
Irvine, C. L. McDonald, Mrs. Sadie
Crowder, Mrs. W. E. Stone and B.
Dickson.

Made in Texas Feed for Editors Is Called Off

Austin, June 7.—On account of lack of finances, the Grown-and-Made-in-Texas banquet which was to have been given the delegates attending the annual meeting of the National Editorial association in New York June 19 has been called off, according to announcement today by Commissioner of Agriculture Fred W. Davis.

Mart Man Injured in Auto Accident

Mart, June 7.—Last night coming into Mart on the seven mile lane the car of Mose Harris was turned over.
Mr. and Mrs. Harris were both shaken up and badly bruised. F. Abrams had his leg broken, and George Wilson, the most seriously hurt member of the party, had his collar bone and several ribs broken, was badly bruised about the chest and may be hurt internally.

The party had been to Perry and the car was running very fast to get into Mart before the threatening rain when a blow-out completely demolished one wheel and overturned the car, throwing the occupants out and pinning
Mr. Wilson to the ground. They screamed for help and nearby neighbors came to their assistance and phoned to Mart for doctors. All the party were brought in last night except Mr. Wilson, who was brought in this morning in a wagon.

Miss Wilson Returns Home.
Miss Bertie Mae Wilson of Mart was visiting in the W. W. Miller household in Waco yesterday when she received a message from Mart stating that her father had been injured in an automobile accident.

home about 1 o'clock, and is going on from Waco to Wichita Falls, where she had intended going on a visit to other parties.

Calling Hsu Shih Chang, former premier, to his bedside, Yuan Shi Kai
whispered:

"I did not wish this end. I did not aspire to be emperor. Those around me said the people desired a sovereign and had named me for the throne. I believed and was misled."

Eddy, June 7.—The marriage of Miss Marguerite Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman of Moor-ville, to R. J. Long of Dallas, occurred this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. W. J. May-hew of Lorena performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Long left immediately for a Northern trip.

Smith-Gaddy Wedding.
Eddy, June 7.—The marriage of Miss Ora Gaddy of Eddy to E. D. Smith of Palmview was solemnized this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Gaddy. Rev.
Mr. Baker of Moody performing the ceremony.

Gatesville Taxes Raised.
Gatesville, June 7.—The city council yesterday morning approved the city tax rolls, which show a rendition for 1916 of $1,571,920. The tax rate was raised from $1.05 to $1.25, and an ordinance was passed levying a tax of $1 on dogs.

Feasted on Clotheline.
One of the most remarkable veterinary operations ever seen in Newton occurred here today when a horse belonging to Nicholas Brazil, a vege-could chew. The steed, known to his intimate associates as Gladiola III, is resting comfortably, but his owner,

Nicholas, cannot sleep a wink.

ment of new potatoes yesterday at the

DELAWARE'S CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

T. Coleman du Pont.

T. Coleman du Pont is Delaware's Republican candidate for the presidency, and will get Delaware's six votes on the first ballot at the Chicago convention. Du Pont was president of the du Pont Powder Company at the outbreak of the European war. He had held this position for many years, but resigned because he did not wish to be responsible in any way for the sale of ammunition to the warring nations of Europe.

most unfit for such work," he said.
"Men die from many diseases when there is no logical reason why they should. Let religion and culture lock arms and strive to improve the race, physically, morally and intellectually, thereby lengthening the lives of men.
The world is divided into two classes, those who lift and those who lean, in the proportion of twenty leading men to one who lifts. Therefore more men are needed to lift and fewer to lean."

He ended his address with a strong appeal to each individual member of the class of 1916 to work at the job trying to make the world better by having lived in it.

After the address, Auton Navratil rendered two violin solos, assisted by Miss Jessie St. Clair, '11, at the piano.
After this number, the scholarships and honors were announced.

The fine arts diplomas were then presented, after which came the conferring of degrees, as was stated in yesterday's columns.

Dr. S. P. Brooks then gave the address to the seniors from after which came the benediction by Rev. T. V.
Neal of San Antonio.

Yuan's Last Words of Regret Over Monarchical Move

Peking, June 7.—The last words of President Yuan Shi Kai were an expression of regret for the monarchical movement which had brought disaster to China and had hastened his end.

Calling Hsu Shih Chang, former premier, to his bedside, Yuan Shi Kai
whispered:

"I did not wish this end. I did not aspire to be emperor. Those around me said the people desired a sovereign

intimate associates as Gladiola III, is
resting comfortably, but his owner,
Nicholas, cannot sleep a wink.

Mr. Brazil was delivering a consignment of new potatoes yesterday at the
has long been his custom, left Gladiola outside. When he came out he saw the horse with its head at an awkward angle and close up to a clothes pole, making a noise like the last words of a bicycle pump. He had kicked the last of the new potatoes in the general direction of Newark and was just punting Mr. Brazil's business coat over the barn when discovered.

A glance showed Mr. Brazil that Gladi-ola had eaten a strip of clotheline.
Grabbing the charger by the bridle, he backed the entire works into the street, knocking down a hedge which he will have to pay for and putting in the last desolate strokes on the falling vegetable business. When 36 feet of rope had been recovered the incident was closed, likewise the ambitious jaws of Gladiola.

Investigation disclosed that Mrs.
Hoyt puts sugar in the starch used for washing. A considerable amount of this substance had got on the clothesline, and Gladiola is a perfect "nut" about candy—Newton (N. J.) Cor. New

DAILY SHORT STORY.

Mr. Taylor Explains.

By LOUISE OLIVER.
(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The jewelry department of the big store was just one of the main entrances. This kingdom was subdivided into special realms and over each principality reigned a princess in black dress, white collar and cuffs. Never was royalty more becomingly adorned, for Max Blumling, floor manager, knew what he was doing when he picked the prettiest girls in the store for this point of vantage, and beauty always looks well in plain dress.

May Marshall, a tall blonde, had charge of the Jet goods. Here also did Mr.
Blumling show judgment, and the silver plate was presided over by two pretty little brunettes, who made the plates and baking dishes appear all the more na-stive and shining beside their dark, piquant beauty. Then—and here the manager had unobtrusively shown his ability as an artist—there was the counter for displaying jewels, from twenty-five cent head strings to two-carat, first-water diamonds, and right behind the racks of pearls and trays of rhinestones stood Mary Webster, as wholesome, sweet and fresh as a May morning.

Mary was—well, she was just Mary.
You looked at her and loved her. Her eyes were, like the country skies she'd left gray or blue according to her mood, and her skin scorned the cosmetics of the drug department beyond. And you wanted her to try all the vari-colored jewels to see how they would look on her. One invariably thought of pearls not that her beauty needed softening, but there was something in her akin to the soft, rich luster of the deep sea gems.

"Good morning, Miss Webster!"
Somehow he had learned her name, although Mary had no idea of his. She nodded brightly, however, as she set a hatpin holder over a freshly-dusted spot and passed the cloth briskly over the top of the glass case.

The man passed up the aisle and disappeared. Evidently he had something to do with the store, but he was not a salesman, for his hours were different from the others. Mary, still smiling, was suddenly unpleasantly aware that Mr. Blum-ling was at the end of the aisle and she was watching her. She flushed and hastily turned her back.

"It seems to me," she said indignantly,
"that I can't breathe any more without that man seeing it. He's always looking at me!" She shivered involuntarily.

"One thing sure, if he stays around here talking like he did yesterday and inviting me to dinner I am going to ask to be changed upstairs. Very good looking that young man was and he has nice eyes and teeth. Sort of makes you think he's always having a little joke of his own."

She smiled at the memory, but was suddenly sobered by the appearance of the floor manager just across the counter.
His own smile faded as quickly as hers when he noticed the quick change of her expression, but as quickly reappeared.

"Good morning, Miss Mary. Did you mirror tell you how pretty you look today? There's a little curl resting over so lightly on your cheek that I would like to kiss it. He leaned forward, his hand under and fixed his eyes immovably on her face.

Mary kept busily at her dusting. "And there's a man not a mile away I would like to hit, and I would if my hands were dipped in ketchup," she said. "I put these new brooches, Mr. Blumling?
Would you suggest a background of blue velvet in the case?"

But she mistook the flush of annoyance for one of pleasure and, disregarding her words, went on: "Blushing is a lost art, Miss Mary. It's very becoming to you. By the way, aren't you sorry you turned down my invitation last night?"

"The store always takes after me, and I'm not the kind that takes offense easily. How about tonight?"

"I—I have another engagement."
He regarded her steadily. "Don't believe me, I'm not a flirt. I know the town," he said slowly, deliberately. "You haven't another engagement?"

His insolence was maddening. "Haven't I?" she flashed. "You know nothing about me. I may be engaged to be married for all you know, Mr. Blumling. The fact is, I'm not."

She didn't know why she said it, but the need of a protector, hypothetical though he might be, was imperative, and it came before she could stop herself.
Mr. Blumling was silent an instant and his smile disappeared. Then he laughed easily. "I don't believe it."

But he walked away and left Mary in momentary peace. At the intersection of two aisles, Mary had a glimpse of what the tray a solitary diamond of carat weight and slipped in onto the third finger of her left hand.

At first, she stood gazing at its changing color rapturously. Then, suddenly thoughtful, she started to draw it off.
"What was it she was doing? It wasn't any sentiment of wearing what wasn't hers that troubled her, but the false significance of the thing. Was it right to make the world believe she was engaged when she wasn't?"

"Good morning, Miss Webster!" Mary hastily covered her hand and returned the greeting. It was the man with the nice eyes. This time he stopped, but hesitated as though the close proximity of so much charm drove what he was instantly out of his head. Mary hastily turned the stone in the ring underneath.

"Is there anything I can show you?"
she smiled.

"Well, I guess I can see for myself the way it's spread out," he grinned. "But you can show me anything you like.

When Nature Calls!

Our body is an intricate machine, subject to constant wear and tear. Unless the power (the blood) that keeps this marvelous machine in motion is properly watched, a breakdown is sure to follow. Your own body, and its health, is a priceless possession—are you doing for it what you should? Has the blood (the power) become inactive in throwing off poisons, (one of its functions) and do you find it hard to get the same amount of work out of yourself as in the past? Perhaps you haven't guarded your life blood as carefully as you should, and a diseased condition is setting up a permanent place within you. Don't fear—yet! It is only a call from Nature. The blood (power) has more impurities thrown into it than it can properly eliminate, and some form of blood disease—possibly Rheumatism, Catarrh, Malaria or one of the many distressing kinds of skin eruptions such as boils, pimples, eczema, etc., are taking possession.

Heed This Call

For delay means only a short time stands between you and, possibly, a chronic disease. Go to Nature and avoid this condition by cleansing the blood of impurities with S.S.S., the wonderful root, herb and bark remedy. S.S.S. has helped thousands back to health, and other thousands have found its greatest tonic in keeping the blood toned up, fit to combat and keep diseases away. Avoid mineral drugs as their action is violent and harmful to your very life tissues. Note the cartoon below and demand that the S. S. S. you buy bear all S. S. S. labels and trade marks. ## NEWS EMPLOYEES PRESENTED WITH BIG WATERMELON

It is a wonder that this edition of the News was gotten out. A great obstacle was overcome last night in issuing the paper. This obstacle was a big 40-pound watermelon, which was presented to the News workers by the Miller Commission, and was one of a shipment of fine melons from Brownsville received yesterday by the company. This big obstacle was a great one but by willing co-operation by all the problem was dispatched in about five minutes after the operation, the "whole force" taking a hand—and mouth—in the matter.

Clay Street Church Calls New Pastor

By unanimous consent, Rev. Mr. Holland, at present pastor of the McGregory Baptist church, was called to take the pastorate of the Clay Street Baptist church, by the members of the church. Rev. Mr. Holland has been in McGregory for the last two and one-half years and is said to be a man of spiritual power, and constructive ability. He will arrive here today to look over the field here, prior to accepting the pastorate, and will preach for the members of the church at a special service tonight, which all are urged to attend.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

A baby boy has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Harris of 524 South Tenth street.

City Attorney John Maxwell, trustee in bankruptcy, sold the furniture and fixtures of the Faust cafe yesterday morning. They were bought by Bill Berdicht of Dallas and will be shipped there.

Two more men have been enlisted by the local recruiting officer of the United States army. They will be sent to Fort Sam Houston some time today and will later be sent to join the coast artillery.

Marriage licenses were issued to the following parties yesterday: Frank W. Kellum and Miss Edna Marie Kraft, Horace Lorraine Markland and Miss Ruby McClain. A. Stanley and Mrs. Maggie Lankford.

The fortieth commencement exercises of the College Station will be held from June 11 to June 13, and the I. & G. N. railroad is pushing the matter up to the attention of the public. It is thought that a number from Waco probably will attend.

A week-end excursion to Galveston will be conducted by the Katy railroad next Saturday, June 10, at which time a round-trip rate of $5.15 will be made. Parties taking advantage of the rate will be able to go to Galveston Saturday, returning on trains leaving Galveston Monday night.

There will be a meeting of the county democratic executive committee, of which H. Elmer Brown of Ocoee is chairman and Frank Fitzpatrick of Waco is secretary, on June 19 in Waco. Matters in connection with the coming July primaries will receive attention at this meeting.

Failure on the part of contractors to take out building permits when they start on buildings is causing some confusion. It is stated by the city authorities that it is highly desirable to have the permits taken out when a start is made on buildings, and promptness and co-operation in this respect are greatly desired.

While holding their regular morning conference, the city commission yesterday morning discussed the proposition of the hand concerts for the parks of Waco this summer. While no municipal band has been yet engaged or other steps taken in the direction of the regular summer concerts, it is believed that these concerts may be arranged for later.

Two classes of the Fifth Street Methodist church will give a box party in the church parlors tonight at 8 o'clock. The classes are those of George Weibach and Mrs. McDonald and the funds that are to be derived from the entertainment will be for the benefit of the classes. There will be a short program, followed by refreshments, after which the boxes will be auctioned off.

The Boy Scouts and other organizations and parties camping out had a rather rough time of it Tuesday night. Camping parties on the Bosque fare all right when weather conditions are favorable, but the stream has to be watched when rains set in. It takes a whole lot to daunt the average boy, however, and unless the rains continue some time the juvenile campers will manage to have a good time.

Origin of Chestnut.
Among the no small number of Americanisms that have been adopted by the English and are in use there, though they have almost or quite passed out of current speech here, is the word "chestnut" as applied to the old and well worn joke or story. Joseph Jefferson, the actor, who made Rip Van Winkle famous, gave the origin of the term years ago.

"There is," he said, "a melodrama but little known to the present generation, written by William Dillon and called 'The Broken Sword.' There were two characters in it—one a Captain Xavier and the other the comedy part of Pablo. The captain is a sort of Baron Munchausen, and in telling of his exploits says: 'I entered the woods of Colaway, when suddenly from the thick boughs of a cork tree—' Pablo interrupts him with the words, 'A chestnut, Captain, a chestnut.'"

"Bah!" replies the captain. 'Booby, I say cork tree.' 'Chestnut,' reiterates Pablo. 'I should know as well as you, having heard you tell the tale these twenty-seven times.' 'William Warren, who had often played the part of Pablo, was at a 'stag' dinner two years ago, when one of the gentlemen present told a story of doubtful age and originality.

"A chestnut," murmured Mr. Warren, quoting from the play. 'I have heard you tell the tale these twenty-seven times.' The application of the lines pleased the rest of the table, and when the party broke up each helped to spread the story and Mr. Warren's commentary. And that is what I really believe to be the origin of the word 'chestnut!'—Indianapolis News.

SAYS COULD EAT A FRIED HORSE

Milwaukee Lady and Husband Have Regained Their Health From Plant Juice.

"There is no virtue in medicine," many people say. Ignorance is the cause of people giving voice to such statements. Now, if you will read what people write in regard to Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic, it will convince the most skeptical. Since Plant Juice has been introduced, its effects are truly marvelous in combatting and eradicating the various symptoms of a deranged stomach. It has taken a firm hold on the public because it relieves, and restores hope and happiness.

The following signed statement from Mrs. May Mead of No. 6222 Greenfield avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., speaks for itself. She says:

"I have used your medicine, Plant Juice, for stomach trouble and have received wonderful results from it. I was in a terrible condition, for my food never digested properly, but fermented and formed gas in my stomach. I was nervous, dizzy and all run-down. My husband was in practically the same condition, and I recommended your remedy to him and he is much better now. We both have a splendid appetite and I feel as if I could eat a horse if it was fried right. We are recommending Plant Juice to all of our friends and are certainly boosters for it."

Such words as these and those of many others that have been printed have a wide influence, as they come from people of standing and integrity, who have given Plant Juice a fair trial, and have benefited thereby. Plant Juice is sold in Waco at Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store.

ANOTHER GAS WELL STARTED AT MEXIA

A new gas well has just been started some five miles from Mexia, according to several Waco parties who have just returned from there after making an auto trip. In the party were W. W. Foley, Jr., Selby and P. B. Crosby. These gentlemen took in all the country contiguous to Mexia, and inspected the situation as to gas wells as thoroughly as their time would permit. They also inspected the crops along the way and were impressed with the wonderfully rich country along most of the route.

MAYOR GETS LETTER ON PREPAREDNESS

Mayor John Dollins yesterday received a letter from J. F. Hubbard, secretary of the executive committee of the American Defense Society of New York, regarding the preparedness parades which have been held in so many cities of the country, and which have everywhere been participated in with such enthusiasm and unanimity of action.

It was stated in the letter that the parades have served to aid in crystallizing sentiment in behalf of rational preparedness, and that much good in that way has been accomplished. The suggestion was made that Waco stage such a parade, and blanks for reply were sent.

The letter will be turned over by Mayor Dollins to the commercial organizations here to ascertain sentiment on the matter and see whether it is thought advisable to try and have such a demonstration here.

Local Deaths

MAYOR GETS LETTER ON PREPAREDNESS

Mayor John Dollins yesterday received a letter from J. F. Hubbard, secretary of the executive committee of the American Defense Society of New York, regarding the preparedness parades which have been held in so many cities of the country, and which have everywhere been participated in with such enthusiasm and unanimity of action.

It was stated in the letter that the parades have served to aid in crystallizing sentiment in behalf of rational preparedness, and that much good in that way has been accomplished. The suggestion was made that Waco stage such a parade, and blanks for reply were sent.

The letter will be turned over by Mayor Dollins to the commercial organizations here to ascertain sentiment on the matter and see whether it is thought advisable to try and have such a demonstration here.

Weather Man "Hands One" To the Doctors

One would think that a weather report would be as devoid of humor as the Congressional Record, but such is not the case. Dr. Isidor Kell, weather prognosticator for the News, when phoning in his report last night, was speaking of the remarkable memory of the public for any error made by a weather man. He said that they soon forgot the errors of the physician.

"The difference," he said, "is that my errors stare me in the face, but the doctors bury theirs."

Local Deaths

Mrs. Susie F. Thompson.
The funeral of Mrs. Susie Frances Thompson took place yesterday morning from the residence of T. S. Hollon, 528 South Seventh street.

General George Bell Reviews Five Mile Long Troop Column

El Paso, June 7.—A column of United States troops five miles long was reviewed here today by General George Bell Jr., commanding the district powder control. Military authorities said the spectacle presented every branch of the army and was for the purpose of convincing residents that the soldiers are prepared to protect the city and its environs in the event the remotest possible emergency. In the throng which viewed the parade were hundreds of Mexicans, two of whom were arrested on a charge that they had been counting the soldiers as they passed.

COTTON PALACE GUARANTEE FUND NEAR COMPLETION

The Cotton Palace guarantee fund committee, at their present rate of progress, promise to complete the $15,000 subscription fund today. Although the definite amount is not known, it is certain that at least $10,000, or two-thirds of the sum has been raised, $8,525 having been subscribed by noon, which was the last time that an official report has been made.

At the luncheon of the teams at the Y. M. B. L. rooms, W. H. Hoffmann of the central committee for raising the fund, said that the central committee would make a present to the teams of $1,000 each, this money being that which had been secured by the committee. This added to the sum already obtained by the teams made the standing of each team as follows: Team No. 1, $1,720; team No. 2, $1,150; team No. 3, $1,370; team No. 4, $1,525; team No. 5, $1,255; and team No. 6, $1,415, making a total of $8,525.

No difficulty has yet been encountered in their efforts to secure the money guarantee, as all of the business men are ready to pledge themselves for the support of Waco's foremost institution. Mr. Hoffmann in his address at the luncheon encouraged the members of the teams to further effort in an attempt to close the fund with the setting of today's sun. The committee, he said, would be continued for today only, as he thought that the remaining $2,500 could easily be subscribed in the remainder of the time at the disposal of the teams.

The third and last luncheon of the workers will be held at the Y. M. B. L. rooms today at noon and it is expected that by that time most of the money that must be gotten today will have been secured.

Witnesses Declare Schlatter Healed "Miraculously"

New York, June 7.—Witnesses who told of being "miraculously cured" of various diseases by the Rev. Francis Schlatter through prayer and "the laying on of hands" testified before United States Commissioner Houghton today in proceedings instituted to resist the removal of the so-called "Messiah of New Mexico" and Rev. August Algard to Los Angeles where they are under indictment on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The witnesses testified to having been cured of tuberculosis, rheumatism, catarrh and other maladies. No money was asked by Schlatter, they said, but several admitted they had made "donations." One woman testified that the healer gave her money when he learned she was poor.

Schlatter is charged with having sent through the mails handkerchiefs he had blessed which were supposed to be applied to the affected part of the body in curing disease.

Attempt to Rob Sapulpa State Bank Fails

Sapulpa, Okla., June 7.—Two officers were seriously injured and two during daylight bank robbers shot here at 8 o'clock this morning after an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Sapulpa State bank. The robbers who were captured gave their names as Harry Wells and Herb Farmer. They were placed in the county jail and taken to Tulsa at noon for safekeeping from mob violence.

A posse in pursuit chased the robbers down the Prisco right of way on foot. A glass worker living in the vicinity hid behind a telegraph pole and as the bandits ran past fired two shots. Both men fell, shot in the legs.

A little girl was wounded, probably not fatally, by a bullet that entered the room where she was dressing. The man who gave his name as Wells is said to have escaped from the Tulsa jail last summer after having killed the jailer.

The two officers injured went to the bank to investigate a report that robbers were there. The robbers who had locked themselves in opened the door, overpowered the officers as they entered, hurried them out of town half a mile and then beat them up.

Ambulance Driver Wounded Near San Benito

San Antonio, June 7.—Mexicans fired from ambush upon and wounded Private Wm. E. Strauss of ambulance company No. 5 south of San Benito Tuesday night, according to a report reaching southern department headquarters tonight. The report came from Col. Robert L. Ballard of the Twenty-sixth infantry at Harlingen. Captain Scher of the Twenty-sixth was sent out with four detachments of mounted men to search for the Mexicans but failed to locate them.

Roosevelt Winner in North Carolina Primaries

Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—Theodore Roosevelt was the choice of republican voters in the state at large and eight districts in the preferential primary here Saturday, according to complete returns received tonight. Justice Hughes carried two districts.

This would give Roosevelt seventeen of North Carolina's delegates in the national convention and Hughes four. President Wilson and Vice President Marshall received the democratic vote.

Suffragettes March in Spite of Rain

Chicago, June 7.—Defying a heavy rainstorm driven by a cold west wind, 5,000 women today marched in the parade of the National Equal Suffrage association, giving an unprecedented demonstration of loyalty to the cause for which they are fighting—women's votes.

Led by a platoon of police and accompanied by a number of bands the women marched two miles through the downtown business district to the Coliseum to present their arguments for the ballot to the republicans.

MAY ASK CARRANZA TO ARBITRATE MATTER

PRESIDENT WILSON AND CABINET CONSIDERING PLAN SERIOUSLY.

Equal Number of Commissioners Would Be Appointed by Both Sides.

Washington, June 7.—A proposal to General Carranza that the United States and the Mexican de facto government submit the whole subject of their relations to an international committee is being seriously considered by the administration.

Such a proposal, if it is made, will serve as a reply to the Mexican note demanding withdrawal of the American troops and may contemplate adjustment of many unsettled differences that for years have caused accumulating embarrassment in the relations of the two nations.

Settlement by a commission is provided for expressly by the treaty of 1848 which provides further that "should such a course be proposed by either party it shall be decided by the other unless deemed by it altogether incompatible with the nature of the difference or the circumstances of the case."

President Wilson and General Carranza would appoint an equal number of commissioners under the plan and the meeting probably would be held somewhere outside the territory of either country. There was no indication tonight that the president, with whom rests the final word as to whether the proposal shall be made, had yet reached a decision or that the reply would go forward within the next few days.

Just what scope would be given the commissioners has not been worked out. In view of the fact that the Mexican note demands withdrawal of the troops as evidence of good faith, it is possible this question would have to be considered although prior to the meetings of the commission no step toward withdrawal probably would be taken.

In addition to military questions there are far reaching economic considerations now greatly complicated by the European war. Coming down from bygone years are unsettled questions as to certain portions of the international boundary. Out of the Vera Cruz incident arose disposition of the customs revenues collected by General Funston, amounting to over a million dollars, now deposited in this country, and also claims for property damage at Vera Cruz. These have been long pigeon-holed in the navy department.

Most far-reaching of all, however, is the question of indemnification for American lives lost and American property destroyed or damaged during the years of revolution in Mexico. No attempt ever has been made to set an estimate on the amount involved in these claims, but all are recorded at the state department awaiting restoration of order and peace in Mexico for a day of settlement. While the commission suggested may not propose to go into a broad discussion of all these matters, it seems likely that each will have its bearing on the deliberations. For this reason it is thought the American membership of the commission would be so chosen that the military, commercial and financial interests of the nation would all be represented.

ROOSEVELT OF TODAY

Theodore Roosevelt's latest picture.

This new picture of Colonel Roosevelt seems to indicate that the president is retaining his youth. He shows the same bodily vigor in his campaigns today that distinguished him in his dash up San Juan hill eighteen years ago.

Out of such a deliberation, which it is believed General Carranza would welcome, officials believe there might come some definite understanding as to the purposes of the Washington government that it would have its effect not only in Mexico but also in Latin-America and make toward a furtherance of the neighborly relations between the nations of the western hemisphere.

British Army Mourns for Lord Kitchener

London, June 7.—The British army went into mourning today for its late chief. Every officer wore a band of crepe on his left arm. Throughout the country, flags were at half-mast.

From allied and neutral countries and dependencies came a flood of cablegrams expressing sympathy. In the dominions, including South Africa, legislatures adjourned as a mark of respect for the dead leader.

Newspapers and commercial organizations have taken up the demand for immediate internment of aliens from enemy nations, on the ground that the Germans may have been advised from England of Earl Kitchener's departure and that such knowledge might have been responsible for the destruction of the Hampshire.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR STRAW HAT.

Chinese Have Secured Monopoly of Business of Making the Braid.

At one time straw braid for hats was plaited in the United States, Canada, England and Scotland, but the Chinese have gradually secured a monopoly of the business, though China straw braid is inferior in wearing qualities to the old home product. In the old days straw braid was plaited by the pioneers from tough ripe straw, cut before the grain was fully ripe. They used heavy straw exclusively and it got dead ripe, which makes it brittle. This China braid can be bleached only in one place, Luton, a town, forty miles from London, England, and this gives London a practical monopoly of the trade in China braid.

The open season for straw hats is at hand, and it will surprise American wearers to know that nearly all the straw braid used exclusively in England, China and that the straw used in making a sixty-nine-cent bargain counter hat is cut in the same field that supplies the straw for a five-dollar hat. The straw and the braids are sorted, some of the straw is split finer than the rest and the braids differ in width and pattern, but it is all common wheat, and not the best at that, for the Chinese take no precautions to protect the wheat or to improve its quality.

Out of the wheat straw the middle section about two feet long is cut, discarding the tips and about a foot near the root. This middle section is cut between joints into pieces four or five inches long, and longer if possible. This clear straw is split by hand into two, four or seven pieces, depending on the width and style of braid to be plaited. The villagers plait the straw at odd times, working it while wet into braid as narrow as an eighth of an inch or a trifle less, and all other widths up to about half an inch.

The best of this braid reaches the market in odd lengths, from which the buyers sort and roll skeins varying from thirty to 120 yards in length. The Chinese factors bleach this braid with the fumes of burning sulphur, but they cannot produce the color commanded in England and the United States, so all of the China braid used in hat making in the two countries finds its way to Luton. Luton's hold on this bleaching trade is as tight as the hold London has on the art of dyeing stockings.

Chinese straw plaiters average only a cent or two a day, but they do not work steadily at the trade. They buy the straw and sell the braid to brokers, so no close estimate of their earnings can be made. No machine for plaiting straw has ever been invented, so they will enjoy a monopoly of the trade as long as they will work so cheaply.—New York Commercial.

S. H. COMMENCEMENT TAKES PLACE WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

The program of the Sacred Heart academy commencement, which had been published in The News, was followed out last night in the most elaborate commencement that the academy has ever had, although this commencement is its forty-fourth. There was a large crowd, in spite of the weather, and the program, including the play, "Joseph's Bondage," was fully appreciated by the large audience.

Gold medals were presented to Misses Rosalie Keton of this city; Faye Wright of Cameron and Flossie Hobin of Turnersville. The usual valedictorian address was delivered by Miss Keton and the salutatory by Miss Wright.

The play was particularly praised as being indicative of much faithful rehearsal and practice. The rehearsal has been going on for several weeks and was participated in only by the students of the academy.

Four Killed When Mob of Negroes Attacks Officers

Bluefield, W. Va., June 7.—Four persons were killed and two seriously wounded last night at Beckley, W. Va., fifty miles from Bluefield, when a mob composed of negroes attempted to take three negro prisoners from a party of deputy sheriffs. Mob leaders, it is claimed, thought an attempt was going to be made to lynch the prisoners and opened fire on the deputies. Many shots were exchanged and Deputy Sheriff Wyatt, John Bolden and two negroes were killed and two deputies wounded. Six arrests have been made.

Alleged Bandit Shot and Captured

San Antonio, June 7.—Antonio Rocha, alleged bandit charged with being implicated in the murder of Filogonio Cuellar, a deputy sheriff, in Hidalgo county last February, also with the murder of Curtis Bayles, an American ranchman, near Mercedes, was shot and captured by Mexican soldiers opposite Mercedes in Mexico and taken to jail at Matamoros today. An effort is being made to have Rocha extradited and brought to Texas for trial.

Germans Capture British Trenches

London, June 8.—12.55 a. m.—British trenches running through Hooge have been captured by the Germans, according to the British official statement issued at midnight, which reads: "Last night and today heavy artillery bombardments occurred on both sides east of Ypres. In the fighting yesterday the enemy succeeded in capturing our front line trenches running through the ruins of the village of Hooge. "Attacks against other portions of our line failed."

"A small infantry attack delivered early this morning against our trenches west of Hooge was repulsed. "During the night our Australian troops entered German trenches east of the Bois Grenier, inflicting loss and bringing back prisoners. Our troops also carried out a successful raid east of Cuijnchy."

Hostile artillery and trench mortars were active today against our trenches around Ovillers, Hamel, Souchez, Loos and Neuve Chapelle. Our artillery shelled enemy batteries about Lievin, east of Souchez and about Loos. There has been some mining activity by the enemy north-east of Neuville St Vaast and Givency."

Americans Leave Chihuahua.
El Paso, Texas, June 7.—Americans resident in Chihuahua City are expected to arrive in Juarez tomorrow, according to advices here tonight by A. J. McQuatters, manager of the Alvarado Mining company of Parral. There are supposed to be about thirty or forty Americans there, including women and children.

CHAIRMAN NAMED FOR COTTON PALACE WOMEN'S SECTION

The chairmen of the committees for the five divisions of the women's department of the Cotton Palace for this year were appointed by President Tom F. Bush of the Cotton Palace association at a luncheon at the Raleigh yesterday. They follow:

Mrs. J. S. Hill, women's exhibits; Mrs. J. W. Hale, women's day; Mrs. George W. Cole, children's day; Mrs. Charles B. Ivy, better babies' department; Mrs. C. C. Shumway, county school day.

It was the intention of President Bush to secure those who were possessed of executive ability, and who were able to make constructive plans for the betterment of the Cotton Palace. Those who were appointed have shown themselves, in the past, to be foremost in welfare movements and are expected to display the same capabilities in their new work.

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND The Great Gear Lubricant

We want to tell you that CRATER COMPOUND is one of the greatest discoveries in the field of lubrication. It fills a long-felt want.

It coats each tooth with a WEAR-checking film which does not harden or scale off. It won't run or dry out. It is always there—lubricating. Dirt and flying dust cannot break this coating on the gears. It protects them from wear and rust.

CRATER is one of the many fine lubricants made by us and sold only under the TEXACO Brand.

You can secure CRATER, as well as a full line of lubricants, for any purpose whatever, from the TEXACO Agent near you. Call on him—it pays.

WORKING BOYS' CLUB WILL BE ENTERTAINED BY SPEAKERS' CLUB

Manager R. H. Hodges of the Waco Working Boys' club believes that the program for that club tonight will be one of the most enjoyable yet held, and that there will be enough features of drawing power to get the boys out in large numbers.

The Waco Speakers' club will furnish the entertainment in large measure for the boys tonight at their meeting in the old First Presbyterian church building on Austin street, and this program is a corking good one.

A matter which is of almost supreme moment to the average boy will be handled at this meeting, and that the boys who will be privileged to attend the baseball game next time; the boys who will have this great pleasure are the ones who have good behavior reported to their credit, regular attendance on meetings of the club and participation in the programs. It is thought that there will be between twenty-five and thirty boys who will have the chance to see the ball game under these conditions. The club is getting along nicely, and is expected to enjoy the program tonight.

Zeb McCormick, president of the Speakers' club, will deliver the address of welcome, and Dr. Hodges will respond on behalf of the Working boys.

Other speakers will be P. C. Wiley, T. E. Johnson and E. Johnston.

A forensic discussion will be indulged in upon the question, "Resolved, that the city commission should require a license of all newsboys of the city." Speaker Frank Harrison will represent the affirmative side while Ben Harlan will be the negative enthusiast.

After the "spread," which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, the boys will be taken to one of the movies for the second performance.

As this will be an unusual meeting of the Waco Speakers' club a large attendance of the speakers is expected.

New Fire Escapes Now Being Placed

W. J. Neale was the first Waco resident to take out a fire escape permit under the new arrangement of things, and others are coming in right along, according to Building Inspector S. P. Herbert.

The Goldstein-Migel company took out the second permit in this direction, with Wm. Cameron & Co. a close third. Fire escapes are being placed in position all over the city, and there will be a lot more of the permits to be taken out.

Activity in this direction came as a result of the new state law on the subject, and Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle has been busy for some time in notifying residents about the necessity for putting in the fire escapes and in other phases of his work.

City Commission Will Meet Today

The packing house ordinance which has been before the city commission for weeks is due to receive definite action at the meeting of that body this morning, and it is probable that interested parties will be present and show why it should or should not be passed. It was decided at the last meeting to let it go over until today, with the understanding that it would get final action.

The weights and measures ordinance, too, probably will be passed finally today, and this is expected to protect the city and its inhabitants from under-weights on many different articles bought here.

Temple Rodef Sholem Class Confirmed

In spite of inclement weather, there were many who attended the confirmation exercises at Temple Rodef Sholem yesterday morning, those confirmed being members of the senior class of the temple religious school.

The services were fittingly impressive, alike to the participants and on-lookers. The children were Lois Herz, Dorothy Rosenthal, Schan Landman, Blooma and Sadie Kaplan, Sadie Berkman, Mildred Wightman, Dan Hawtolf, Bernard Ginsberg and Stanley Black.

At the Progress club yesterday evening a reception was given for the confirmants from 8 to 10:30 by parents of the children.

Y W C A Teams Being Filled Rapidly

The girls are coming out strong for the volleyball and basketball teams at the Young Women's Christian association. Over 100 have already signed up for places on the teams, but still more are expected. They not only sign up for their places, but attend regularly and stay "all the lights go out." Monday there were teams playing on the gym floors from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Miss Florence Andrews, the new physical director, will not arrive here until the first days of September, but that does not delay the physical work, as several women are now acting as voluntary coaches for the girls.

Indoor baseball teams will be organized in a few days.

The Anchor of the Soul

One of the best anchors for an earthly soul is to have a few dollars laid away—a little cash you can call your own—a few earthly shekels tucked away, stored away for a "rainy day." But if you are anchored to rocks of debt and unpaid bills, when the storms of life assail you, these very rocks will dash upon you and crush you and there will be sorrow and sadness in your home. But if you are on a cash basis, and trade with Cash Mercantile Co.'s 27 Grocery stores, you will always have money, be happy, and whatever storms may come or go, your anchor will always hold.

Will convince you that we are selling groceries as fast as an army of trained clerks can wait on the crowds that throng these stores daily. We are selling many carloads of all sorts of eatables, each and every day in the week, and are buying so cheap that we can sell at prices so much below the prevailing prices around town that the housewife can afford to come from any suburb of the city to buy even a single article, the difference in price being great.

Dr. Brooks Speaks at Mart Tonight

Dr. S. P. Brooks, candidate for the United States senate, who has been attending the commencement exercises at Baylor university, will speak tonight at Mart by previous arrangement and after that has a very strenuous program ahead of him for some time to come.

He will speak this week in McGregor, Rogers, Moody and Lorena, while next Monday he goes to the Panhandle section of Texas for twelve days of speaking, some days including as many as three speeches.

He enjoyed the commencement exercises thoroughly, and feels in fine trim for the activities ahead of him.

Country Club Plans Many Improvements

Declaring enthusiastically that the Country club is to make the improvements which have been under consideration, and that these will be noteworthy, Postmaster C. B. McCollum was yesterday afternoon in a very optimistic state of mind over the proposition.

He stated that President Edwin Drake, Jr. of the Country club, has been instrumental with others in getting 125 new members, and that the intention is to put in a big swimming pool in the Brazos river, build a rifle range and install tennis courts.

To Owners of Tractors and Other Heavy Farming Machinery

You bought your equipment because of the very evident economies it would introduce—
But, unless all the parts are kept in working order, you do not reap the full benefit.

One of the greatest causes of depreciation of tractors is the wearing out of gears—
You can save tractor gears, and all other heavy duty gears with

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND The Great Gear Lubricant

We want to tell you that CRATER COMPOUND is one of the greatest discoveries in the field of lubrication. It fills a long-felt want.

It protects and preserves many parts which never before could be adequately lubricated.

It coats each tooth with a WEAR-checking film which does not harden or scale off. It won't run or dry out. It is always there—lubricating. Dirt and flying dust cannot break this coating on the gears. It protects them from wear and rust.

CRATER is one of the many fine lubricants made by us and sold only under the TEXACO Brand.

You can secure CRATER, as well as a full line of lubricants, for any purpose whatever, from the TEXACO Agent near you. Call on him—it pays.

WORKING BOYS' CLUB WILL BE ENTERTAINED BY SPEAKERS' CLUB

Manager R. H. Hodges of the Waco Working Boys' club believes that the program for that club tonight will be one of the most enjoyable yet held, and that there will be enough features of drawing power to get the boys out in large numbers.

The Waco Speakers' club will furnish the entertainment in large measure for the boys tonight at their meeting in the old First Presbyterian church building on Austin street, and this program is a corking good one.

A matter which is of almost supreme moment to the average boy will be handled at this meeting, and that is the announcement will be made of the boys who will be privileged to attend the baseball game next time; the boys who will have this great pleasure are the ones who have good behavior reported to their credit, regular attendance on meetings of the club and participation in the programs. It is thought that there will be between twenty-five and thirty boys who will have the chance to see the ball game under these conditions. The club is getting along nicely, and is expected to enjoy the program tonight.

Zeb McCormick, president of the Speakers' club, will deliver the address of welcome, and Dr. Hodges will respond on behalf of the Working boys. Other speakers will be P. C. Wiley, T. E. Johnson and E. Johnston.

A forensic discussion will be indulged in upon the question, "Resolved, that the city commission should require a license of all newsmen of the city." Speaker Frank Harrison will represent the affirmative side while Ben Harlan will be the negative enthusiast.

After the "spread," which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, the boys will be taken to one of the movies for the second performance.

As this will be an unusual meeting of the Waco Speakers' club a large attendance of the speakers is expected.

New Fire Escapes Now Being Placed

W. J. Neale was the first Waco resident to take out a fire escape permit under the new arrangement of things, and others are coming in right along, according to Building Inspector S. P. Herbert.

The Goldstein-Miscel company took out the second permit in this direction, with Wm. Cameron & Co. a close third. Fire escapes are being placed in position all over the city, and there will be a lot more of the permits to be taken out.

Activity in this direction came as a result of the new state law on the subject, and Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle has been busy for some time in notifying residents about the necessity for putting in the fire escapes and in other phases of his work.

City Commission Will Meet Today

The packing house ordinance which has been before the city commission for weeks is due to receive definite action at the meeting of that body this morning, and it is probable that interested parties will be present and show why it should or should not be passed. It was decided at the last meeting to let it go over until today, with the understanding that it would get final action.

The weights and measures ordinance, too, probably will be passed finally today, and this is expected to protect the city and its inhabitants from under-weights on many different articles bought here.

OILERS WILL OPEN SERIES HERE TODAY

RAIN PREVENTS FINAL GAME ON LOCAL LOT WITH LEIDY'S BRONCHOS.

Several New Men Appear in Beaumont Lineup—Many Teams Still Being Changed.

Jim Delehanty and his strengthened Oilers are with us today for a three-game series with the Navigators. Oilier Jost simply acted as a sort of unintentional advance agent for the Beaumonters, appearing here in San Antonio uniform but not going into the box. Probably he would have had his chance if it hadn't rained, but as it was, the grounds were too soggy for play yesterday.

This has been the shiftingest season, perhaps, in the history of the Texas league. Waco is practically the only team that hasn't made a bunch of changes and some of the managers are still on the lookout for more men. In the meantime, the 1915 pennant winners are leading the league, and going better and better all the time. An even break was all the Navigators managed to get from San Antonio, but they made Stewart work for his victory and any win that is given by two lone home runs necessarily has more or less of a luck aspect. The Bronco got as many home runs back of Ogle as they did back of Stewart, and yet the Navigators simply romped off with the second game.

Several new faces will appear in the Beaumont lineup. The Oilers beat Shreveport yesterday and are making a hard fight to get out of the cellar. Beaumont fans have raised a fund for the purpose of giving a five-dollar bill to the "hero" of each game the Oilers win. Here's hoping none of the fund is used during the Waco stay.

BENNY REALLY FELL INTO FIGHT GAME

PICTURE OF BENNY LEONARD BREAKING INTO THE FIGHT GAME

Benny Leonard, New York's brilliant boy lightweight who is not yet twenty years old, is able to prove that he broke into the fight game in a rather violent way. He had swiped a seat outside a window to watch a prize fight and in a moment's excitement fell through the glass, landing not far from the ringside. He was asked if he cared to fight, given a pair of gloves and put up against a tough scrapper. He won his first battle and has been at it ever since.

COTTON

New York.

New York, June 7.—There was a sharp advance in cotton during today's late trading, with October selling up from 12.86 to 13.00 or 38 points above the low level of last week and closing at 12.96. The general list closed steady 11 to 15 points higher. Rumors of riceable with developments circulating, but appeared to be without confirmation and the demand was more generally attributed to covering on the part of a more active spot demand in the southwest and the failure of the selling some January and March. After the first call reactions of 3 or 4 points steadied the market, with the volume of business tapered off and prices turned shade easier. The close was a few points off from the best under realizing.

New Orleans.
 New Orleans, June 7.—After standing at a small advance throughout the session today, cotton bulged rather sharply late in the afternoon on a rumor on the exchange that the Germans were retreating from Verdun and the market closed at a net gain of 11 to 12 points. The high levels were 11 to 14 points up.

It was a day of moderate trading, with the bulls having the best of the day. In the afternoon the unexpected rise of 6 points in spot prices gave them an added advantage.

Around the opening the market was inclined to do better on the good cables and fear of too much rain over the lake. In the afternoon the advance was rapid within moderate limits.

SPOT MARKETS.
 Galveston.
 Galveston, June 7.—Midling spot today 13.15; receipts 4052; sales 4481, stock 195,242.

COTTON

New York, June 7.—There was a sharp advance in cotton during today's late trading, with October selling up from 12.84 to 13.00 or 28 points above the low level of last week and closing at 12.96. The general list closed steady 11 to 15 points higher. Rumors of favorable weather developments were circulating, but appeared to be without confirmation and the demand was more generally attributed to covering on the part of a less number of speculators. Reports of a more active spot demand in the southwest and the failure of the cotton business to develop during the forenoon brought on heavier offerings.

Liverpool was steady and the market here opened firm at an advance of 6 to 11 points. Liverpool was a good buyer of July and October, but also seemed to be selling some January and March. The call reactions of 3 or 4 points steadied the market, with active months selling 9 to 12 points net higher. After the close active months of 11 to 15 points higher and prices turned a shade easier. The close was a few points off from the best under realizing.

New Orleans, June 7.—After standing at a small advance throughout the session today, cotton bulged sharply after the afternoon on a rumor on the exchange that the Germans were retreating from Verdun and the market closed at a net gain of 11 to 14 points up.

It was a day of moderate trading, with the bulls having the best of it because of weather conditions. In the early afternoon the unexpected rise of 6 points in spot prices gave them an added advantage.

After the opening the market was inclined to do better on the good cables and fear of too much rain over the belt in the afternoon the advance was rapid within moderate limits.

SPOT MARKETS. Galveston, June 7.—Middling spot today 12.15; receipts 4052; sales 4481, stock 195,242.

GROWING CROPS ALL HELPED BY DOWNPOUR

RAIN PARTICULARLY TIMELY FOR CORN AND VEGETABLES IN THIS SECTION.

Several Streaks of Hail Noted But No Large Amount of Damage Is Done.

The rains will fit in well with practically all crops, and even the small grain will receive some benefits, it is stated, if the precipitation does not continue too long; the small grain, so it is claimed, threshes out better with a rain about this stage, and is easier handled, containing less dust.

As to corn, the rain could hardly have been more timely. The corn was not actually suffering for rain, but it had reached a stage where it was making extraordinary demands for moisture in the filling-out processes, hence the value of rain at this time.

Cotton was not needing rain, but still it will be benefited by it, while truck and gardens will, of course, do much better now. Prospects for the "well balanced" crop, of which many have been talking, continue most flattering.

There were "streaks" of hail in the clouds of Tuesday night, and in this county a few small sections were visited, but the damage was only nominal, taken as a whole. North of Bosqueville about two miles a hailstorm of intense developed, and the farms of E. A. Woodward and a few others there were almost denuded of cotton. It is thought that the cotton may come out all right, but in case it does not it will be replanted. Some three or four miles north of the city there was another shoe-string hailstorm and some damage was done, but in narrow limits.

Rats Race Over Telephone Wire

Free performances of tight-wire walking by expert performers are furnished to residents of some parts of Waco daily by a new kind of performer—rats. The rats are so numerous in sections of the city that they run about in broad daylight, and reliable information is that several ladies on North Twelfth street between Jefferson and Indiana at one or two places have lately watched with much interest the manner in which the rats manage to get from one side of the street to the other without exposing themselves to the hazard of getting down on the ground and "hoofing" it.

The rats simply race up the telephone poles, select a wire which crosses the street, get onto this wire, clasp it firmly with their feet, and walk out over the atmosphere, far above the crowded thoroughfare; they go clear across the street by means of the wires, too, and appear to enjoy the performance hugely, even taking more pleasure in it than their observers do in watching their performances. The rats probably have not been pulling off this stunt very long, but they have become proficient to a degree which carries with it a suggestion to their human observers to the effect that perseverance and a cool head will accomplish much.

The rats are giving some night performances in the city, too, which are not enjoyed as much as their tight wire walking, and these performances consist of catching very young chicks, eating all sorts of things to be found in pantries and barns, gnawing holes in sacks of grain, scampering across garrets in a manner to drive would-be sleepers insane with baffled rage. They are quite a pest in some sections.

Produce from Rotary Gardens Already on Market

Another inspection will be made of the Rotary gardens tomorrow by the officers of the Welfare League. The last inspection showed a number of gardens that were flourishing, and from which some of the produce has already been sold on the streets of the city.

It is hoped by the officers of the league that arrangements will soon be made for a general clearing house for the products of the gardens. Particularly the radishes are growing with rapidity, and also the various other vegetables which were planted in the gardens.

Mrs. N. B. Kent of the league reported yesterday that she thought when the majority of the vegetables were ready for the market, a merchant or commission man would be found to handle the products, which will net the growers somewhere in the vicinity of $1,000. It is the plan to have a centrally located marketing place, so that the freshest home-grown vegetables may be bought by the people of the city, at a minimum of expense to them, and a profit to the children who raise the products.

T. & B. V. Sued for Alleged Violation of Federal Law

A suit was filed in the United States district court yesterday morning against the T. & B. V. railroad for alleged violation of the hours of service act. The suit was filed by United States Attorney J. L. Camp of San Antonio, and the amount is $500.

C. Beeler, a fireman, is the subject of the suit, as it is alleged that he was worked in this railroad division for a period exceeding the sixteen-hour limit, from 5 a. m. until 11 p. m., on September 21 of last year. This is a violation of a federal statute.

LOCATION OF KATY HOSPITAL MAY BE DECIDED TODAY

There will be an important meeting in Dallas today, and one in which Waco is greatly interested, this being a gathering of the executive committee of the Katy Hospital association, the subject under discussion to be that of the proposed big hospital which this road will establish in some Texas city which is favorably located on that line.

The committee representing the Katy Hospital association is composed of General Manager H. F. Anderson of the Katy, Conductor E. A. Murphy of the same line, and who is president of the Katy Hospital association, together with Katy Agent C. E. Gamill of Houston. This committee was last week, and matters in connection with the proposed big institution were gone over thoroughly, while the committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the Y. M. B. L. on this hospital took the Katy people around over the city and showed them sites which could be offered to the hospital if it is decided to locate it here. The Chamber of Commerce committee on the hospital is composed of H. M. Baine, J. M. Penland, Sol Hirschberg, Alex Sanger and A. R. Roberts, while the Y. M. B. L. committee is composed of William Edmond, E. A. Miller and W. V. Crawford.

The claims of the various places asking for the hospital will be considered at the Dallas meeting, but this will not be a final decision, though it is expected to materially advance the solution of the proposition.

Storm Plays Havoc With Telephones

A lot of telephones in the city, of both the Texas Telephone company and the Southwestern Telephone company, were knocked out by the severe electrical storm Tuesday night, and many people went a part of the day yesterday and some of them all day without service.

Employees of the two companies were unusually busy, as many reported their telephones had been knocked out by the lightning or wind. Waco has so many trees that this also figures in the telephone situation.

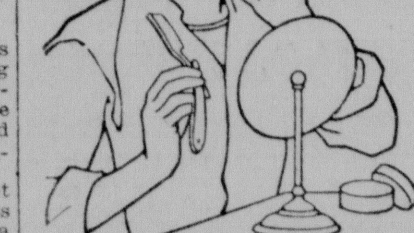

It was hoped to have most all telephones in working order again right soon, and extra efforts are being made to that end.

Texas Travelers' Committee Named

Chairman Tom Covey of the Texas Travelers' transportation committee has selected the following as his associates on the committee: J. W. Blake, S. S. Fleming, C. B. Hill and Arthur Wiebusch. This committee will have charge of all transportation matters coming before the association.

Much interest is already shown in the proposed lunch and dance tendered by Manager Fellow of the Raleigh to the Texas Travelers and their ladies next Saturday night, beginning at 7 o'clock, and it will be a social event of much interest.

NEW SWITCHBOARD TO BE USED SUNDAY

TEXAS TELEPHONE COMPANY ANNOUNCES LINES WILL BE "CUT OVER" SATURDAY.

Southwestern Phones to Be Connected Up Also in Very Near Future.

Announcement has been made by the Texas Telephone company that it expects to "cut over" all independent telephones in Waco onto its new switchboard in the North Ninth street telephone building next Saturday night about midnight. Sunday morning the service over the independent phones will be through the new board, which has been characterized by telephone men who have inspected it as the most modern central station telephone equipment in the south. The switching from the old exchange on North Fifth street to the new one on North Ninth street will be done in the night to avoid any interruption in the service, and it is the expectation of the telephone company's engineers that there will be no delay whatever in the service.

The new switchboard, which was manufactured by the Garford Manufacturing company of Elyria, Ohio, is one of the largest in service in this state, and is thoroughly modern, having a number of up-to-date improvements for the betterment of the service. The board is installed in the third floor of the new building, in a very large and handsomely appointed operating room. Rest rooms have been provided for the operators, and the operators, who will be transferred there Saturday night.

This will be the first of the two "cut overs" that will go to make the consolidation of Waco's telephone exchanges. As has been previously explained in these columns, the consolidation necessitates two "cut overs"—the first, from the old independent exchange on North Fifth street to the new switchboard, and the other from the old Southwestern exchange at Fourth and Washington to the new exchange on North Ninth. These cannot both be made at the same time, and it is therefore necessary to transfer all the independent subscribers to the new exchange before the remaining Southwestern subscribers can be transferred—that is those Southwestern subscribers who have only that telephone, which, in telephone parlance, is known as "non-duplicates." The first switching over will be made next Saturday at midnight, according to the present plan, and the other will then be made just as soon as the lines can be arranged to handle the same.

The actual "cut over" is, to the layman, a simple process. The work is in the preparation for it. Late Saturday night a force of independent operators will go to the new building, leaving a force of operators also at the old building on North Fifth street. When the independent telephones, by that time, will be connected with both the old and the new switchboards, but cut out from the new board until ready for the connection to be made. At the proper time the lines will all be cut off from the old board, and simultaneously cut in on the new one. The engineers calculate that the actual "cut over" process will take less than one minute. But it took forty-two of them to do this, and it is not ready for it," added one of them.

As has been noted, the offices of the telephone company removed to the new building several weeks ago. The switching over of the board will remove the entire operating staff to the North Ninth street building, vacating the Fifth street quarters. The work of dismantling the old switchboard in the Fifth street building will commence Monday.

The final work of "testing out" the big new switchboard is now going on. The installation of the apparatus for this cut over has been practically completed, and it remains to be seen that the newly installed lines are properly connected up, and working. There will be no change of telephone numbers occasioned by this transfer from one switchboard to the other, and the subscriber would probably not know the change had been made were it not for certain automatic features of the service over the new switchboard that do not exist in that of the old one.

It is said that the telephone company plans to make an event of the final cut over of the Southwestern exchange to the new consolidated exchange, of which the details will be announced later.

Summer Normal at Baylor Begins Monday

Superintendent B. B. Cobb of the Waco public schools will once more be a very busy man beginning with next Monday, as he will be the conductor of the Baylor summer normal which makes a start at that time. The Baylor summer school will also start its work, and the campus of the institution will soon look much as it does during the regular work of the big Baptist school.

The Waco public school buildings will receive a thorough overhauling during the summer, and the work will start at once. There are a lot of the buildings, and repairs are always being made, as if necessity the deterioration here and there will make itself felt from season to season.

At least one new building is to be completed, too, and this will be ready for the fall term of the public schools.

Circulate Petitions for Submission

Working with vim, earnestness and enthusiasm, a score of Waco women, assisted by several men, were yesterday circulating submission petitions on the last round of the effort to secure the required number to have this issue placed on the ballot in the July primaries, and if submission carries it will then be up to the legislature to say whether it will allow the people to vote on the constitutional amendment making prohibition one of these amendments.

One of the most active of the ladies at work, and one who was really the leader in the submission matter, was Mrs. A. D. Adams, and the ladies felt that there would be enough names secured, though they did not wish to take any chances on Waco falling down as to its duty. There are about forty thousand names necessary to have submission placed on the ballot, but most of these have now been secured.

It is thought that if other places have been as active as Waco the required names will be in hand at once. Qualified voters are asked to sign the petitions.

FIRE PREVENTION FILM ON TODAY AT THE HIPPODROME

A presentation which will be both edifying and interesting in every way will be seen this morning at the Hippodrome theater, and will be free to the public, there being no charge whatever.

A telephone message received yesterday afternoon by Fire Commissioner Len C. Richards stated that E. B. Godley, chief engineer of the state fire insurance board, and A. O. Boniface, special agent of the United Underwriters' Laboratory, would be here and would present the wonderful fire protection and fire prevention film at the Hippodrome theater, this being under state auspices.

All kinds of fire views will be presented, many of them really thrilling, and the important fires will be specially emphasized, showing how a very small beginning and a seemingly insignificant matter may often be turned into a great conflagration; for instance an electric iron left alone for a while and the current turned on; a seemingly harmless flue with certain conditions present becomes a great menace; electric wiring can be converted by little mice into a fire hazard, etc. It will be a thrilling, educational, instructive and interesting film, and all who see it will be certain to feel well repaid. As stated there is no charge whatever, and a lecturer will be present and explain the beginnings and the endings of various propositions which will be presented, and which, while easily interpreted, will be made still plainer by the lecturer.

It is felt that the result will be to put the community on better grounds as regards fire prevention than at present.

Fulkerson Attends Convention in New York City

Ed L. Fulkerson, secretary-manager of the Waco City Water Works, is in New York, attending the meeting of the American Waterworks convention, this gathering lasting all the week. It ranks as about the largest gathering of the kind in the world, and problems affecting waterworks matters of every conceivable character are discussed in the gatherings.

Mr. Fulkerson represents the Southwestern Waterworks association, of which he is the secretary, and will gather valuable data for that organization, and also for the Waco plant. It will be an educational gathering of high order.

From New York Mr. Fulkerson, who is accompanied by his wife and son, Kenyon Fulkerson, will take several side trips, starting back to Texas by way of Ohio, where Mrs. Fulkerson and Kenyon will stop and spend the summer.

City Bacteriologist to Open Office at City Hall Soon

An office is soon to be opened at the city hall for the city bacteriologist, and when this shall have been done the bacteriologist will have regular office hours there, will examine food specimens and do the work which has been done by the pure food inspection department of Waco.

After the office shall have been opened the city will see to it that specimens of milk, meat and many other things are provided for the bacteriologist, and examinations of same will be conducted regularly. Co-operation on the part of the citizens will be asked, to the end that the work of this department may be made more effective.

There is still discussion among the commissioners relative to the matter of having a man for food inspector who shall give all his time to the work, while an imposition of a small tax on these whose food supplies are examined is being considered, the tax to go to pay the inspector for his services, thus taking the expense off the city budget. However, the present plan probably will be tried out, with the bacteriologist giving part of his time to the city and part to the Waco City Waterworks, to see if it is entirely practical, and if so, then no change will be made, but a part of the commission appears to think that the plan of a straight-out pure food department will finally have to be resorted to.

Superintendent B. B. Cobb of the Waco public schools will once more be a very busy man beginning with next Monday, as he will be the conductor of the Baylor summer normal which makes a start at that time. The Baylor summer school will also start its work, and the campus of the institution will soon look much as it did during the regular work of the big Baptist school.

The Waco public school buildings will receive a thorough overhauling during the summer, and the work will start at once. There are a lot of the buildings, and repairs are always being made, as if necessity the deterioration and there will make itself felt from season to season.

At least one new building is to be constructed, too, and this will be ready for the fall term of the public schools.

Circulate Petitions for Submission

Working with vim, earnestness and enthusiasm, a score of Waco women, assisted by several men, were yesterday circulating submission petitions on the last round of the effort to secure the required number to have this issue placed on the ballot in the July primaries, and if submission carries it will then be up to the legislature to say whether it will allow the people to vote on the constitutional amendment making prohibition one of these amendments.

One of the most active of the ladies at work, and one who was really the leader in the submission matter, was Mrs. A. D. Adams, and the ladies felt that there would be enough names secured, though they did not wish to take any chances on Waco falling down as to its duty. There are about forty thousand names necessary to have submission placed on the ballot, but most of these have now been secured. It is thought that if other places have been as active as Waco the required names will be in hand at once. Qualified voters are asked to sign the petitions.

FIRE PREVENTION FILM ON TODAY AT THE HIPPODROME

A presentation which will be both edifying and interesting in every way will be seen this morning at the Hippodrome theater and will be free to the public, there being no charge whatever.

A telephone message received yesterday afternoon by Fire Commissioner J. C. Richards stated that R. B. Godley, Jr., chief engineer of the state fire insurance board, and A. O. Boniface, special agent of the United Underwriters' Laboratory, would be here today to present the wonderful fire and fire prevention film at the Hippodrome theater, this being under state auspices.

All kinds of fire views will be presented, many of them really thrilling, and the incident fires will be specially emphasized, showing how a very small beginning and a seemingly insignificant matter may often be turned into a great conflagration; for instance an electric iron left alone for a while and the current turned on; a seemingly harmless flue with certain conditions present becomes a great menace; electric wiring can be converted by little mice into a fire hazard, etc. It will be a thrilling, educational, instructive and interesting film, and all who see it will be certain to feel well repaid. As stated there is no charge whatever, and a lecturer will be present and explain the beginnings and the progress of various propositions which will be presented, and which, while easily interpreted, will be made still plainer by the lecturer. It is felt that the result will be to put the community on better grounds as regards fire prevention than at present.

Fulkerson Attends Convention in New York City

City Bacteriologist to Open Office at City Hall Soon

An office is soon to be opened at the city hall for the city bacteriologist, and when this shall have been done the bacteriologist will have regular office hours there, will examine food specimens and do the work which has been done by the pure food inspection department of Waco.

After the office shall have been opened the city will see to it that specimens of milk, meat and many other things are provided for the bacteriologist, and examinations of same will be conducted regularly. Co-operation on the part of the citizens will be asked, to the end that the work of this department may be made more effective. There is still discussion among the commissioners relative to the matter of having a man for food inspector who shall give all his time to the work, while an imposition of a small tax on those whose food supplies are examined is being considered, the tax to go to pay the inspector for his services, thus taking the expense off the city budget. However, the present plan probably will be tried out, with the bacteriologist giving part of his time to the city and part to the Waco City Waterworks, to see if it is entirely practical, and if so, then no change will be made, but a part of the commission appears to think that the plan of a straight-out pure food department will finally have to be resorted to.
